SEARCH FOR MISSING PLANE BIGGEST SEEN

U.S. Bomber Unreported Off California Coast Hunted By 300 Naval Planes

Rescue Efforts For Seven Men

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (CP)—Three hundred United States navy planes and 24 warships searched the seas between Santa Barbara and San Diego today for a giant service patrol bomber missing since Wednesday with seven men aboard.

Naval officers described it as the largest mission yet dispatched after a lost aircraft.

"We believe the plane will be found," said Capt. Alva D. Bernhard, chief of staff to Rear Admiral Ernest J. King, commander of the aircraft scouting force. "It is a flying boat, capable of landing in any kind of sea."

Aboard the 33,000-pound, twin-engined machine, officers said, were emergency rations and a small still for converting ocean water into drinking water.

LIST OF MEN

The craft was piloted by Lieut. Truman Ernest Carpenter, with Aviation Cadet Philip O. Brown as co-pilot, and the following enlisted men: Edgar Anglin, 37, aviation chief machinist mate of Norfolk, Va.; G. A. Mills, radioman, third class, Caruthersville, Mo.; C. C. Creach, 22, aviation machinist mate, third class, Richmond, N.Y.; William Erbe, 32, aviation chief machinist mate, San Diego, and Joe D. Adair, 21, radioman third class, Caruthersville, Missouri.

The missing plane is similar to machines the navy has been flying over great distances. Recently, squadrons of 12 to 14 have flown non-stop to Coco Solo, Canal Zone, 3,080 miles from here, and to Honolulu, more than 2,500 miles.

Rumor W. I. Craig For Deputy Post

In provincial circles today, the name of W. Lloyd Craig, Vancouver business man, as a possible appointee to the post of deputy minister in the new Department of Trade and Industry was rumored.

Mr. Craig, it was said, had strong support within the cabinet for the position.

The government did not deny the rumor, but both Premier Pattullo and Hon. W. J. Asseeline, the minister, said no appointment had been made. Mr. Asseeline indicated it might be some time before it was.

E. G. Rowbottom, former deputy minister of industry, had been mentioned previously for the post.

Dr. W. E. Dodd, Returning to U.S., Gives Reasons For Resignation

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. William E. Dodd, back in the United States after quitting his post as ambassador to Germany, said today he had found it "a hopeless task" to represent this country at Berlin and asserted he despaired of the prospects for world peace. He said a world war was the "logical outcome" of vast war preparations.

The retiring ambassador will make a personal report to President Roosevelt on his four and one-half years in the German capital.

Ford, were charged with killing Joseph Jahahawai, one of five men of mixed blood accused of criminally attacking Mrs. Massie.

The defendants' 10-year sentences were commuted to one hour in custody of the territorial high sheriff.

SOLLOWAY IS ACQUITTED

Toronto Jury Finds Him Not Guilty of Theft of $2,144,740

TORONTO (CP)—Isaac W. C. Solloway, former head of Solloway, Mills and Company, brokerage firm, was acquitted by a general sessions jury here at 5.50 this morning of theft charges involving $2,144,740. The broker was discharged immediately, ending a 35-day trial that opened last November 15.

"You have been found not guilty," Judge Daniel O'Connell said in discharging the former broker. "There is nothing for me to do. You may go now."

Solloway termed the verdict "one of the greatest victories of British justice in Canadian history." He left the courtroom within a few minutes of the jury's return, after shaking hands with the friends who had stood by him throughout the long night.

As the verdict was announced, a group of Solloway's friends who had remained in the courtroom almost constantly since yesterday morning clapped and cheered enthusiastically. Five of them, Bessie Martin, Margy Seaborn, Audrey Clarke, D. G. MacGregor and George Dill, were singled out by the judge and fined $1 each for disturbing the court.

Fuel Oil Price In B.C. Lowered

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver oil companies announced today the price of fuel oil in British Columbia had been dropped 10 cents a barrel. New prices will be $1.45 a barrel in Vancouver harbor, $1.50 a barrel at coast points on the mainland and $1.55 at points on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

S. E. Nord, manager of the Standard Oil Company of British Columbia, said the new price scale would only affect quantity purchases, and was due to a reduction in fuel oil prices in the Los Angeles basin.

New Move To End Tie-up At Seattle

Says War Would Make B.C. Suffer

Maj.-Gen. Ketchen, Winnipeg, Speaks of Possible U.S. Forts on Border

WINNIPEG (CP)—Maj.-General H. D. B. Ketchen, who commanded the 6th Canadian Infantry Brigade in France during a part of the Great War and was general officer commanding Military District No. 10 with headquarters at Winnipeg in 1919, believes that war involving the United States on the Pacific Coast would turn British Columbia into a "second Belgium."

Commenting on an unconfirmed report which spoke of the possibility of the United States fortifying the border, the retired commander, who is now a member of the Manitoba Legislature for Winnipeg, said he did not think "we can blame the United States for trying to defend itself."

Defence of the border shows at least a desire on the part of the United States to stand on its own feet, he added.

"With the west coast as wide open as it could possibly be, the tragedy is, if it came to conflict, British Columbia would become a second Belgium."

British Columbia is an obvious base for an attack on the United States, the general continued. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 7)

U.S. NOTE ASKS ABOUT WOMAN

Formal Inquiry Made in Moscow Whether Mrs. R. M. Rubens Arrested

MOSCOW (AP)—The United States embassy here today presented a formal note to the Soviet Foreign Office asking whether Ruth Marie Rubens of New York was under arrest in Russia and if so on what charges.

The note, delivered on instructions from Washington, demanded full information concerning the disappearance from a Moscow Hotel, December 9, of Mrs. Rubens, who had been known here as "Mrs. Donald Robinson."

She had arrived in Moscow November 6 in company with "Donald L. Robinson," who disappeared December 2. The request for information was based on the State Department's findings Mrs. Rubens was a United States citizen. Her passport picture was identified by American officials here two days ago as that of the "Mrs. Robinson" who vanished.

NO PEACE PLAN YET, SAYS JAPAN

SHANGHAI (AP)—Shigeru Kawagoe, Japanese ambassador to China, declared Saturday morning peace negotiations were "out of the question for the present."

He said Japan should "repudiate" the Nanking government as the central authority for China. (The Central Chinese Government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek recently was reorganized, apparently to strengthen its resistance to Japan.)

"A new regime is needed," Kawagoe declared. "It must be one absolutely relying on the technical and economic support and guidance of Japan."

LOYALISTS GAIN LEAD AT TERUEL

Spanish Government Troops Are Reported Winning Big Battle

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier (AP)—Spanish government forces appeared today to have gained a winning margin in the most intensive fighting of the 17-day Teruel campaign.

Fighting centred about Conced to the north of Teruel, and government communiques proclaimed complete defeat of insurgent troops.

Insurgents were seeking by a counter-offensive to break through government lines into Teruel, until December 21 a strategic insurgent base in operations toward government Valencia on the east.

Within the provincial city, 135 miles east of Madrid, remnants of an insurgent garrison still are fighting a snipers' warfare with government troops. The garrison was cut from escape in the surprise offensive by which Madrid troops fought into the city.

TOKIO STOCK PRICES DROP

Big Increase in Taxation and War Cost Forecast Depress Market

TOKIO (CP-Havas)—Shares on the Tokio Stock Exchange dipped sharply today following announcement of drastic increases in taxation and a forecast by the newspaper Asahi that the costs of the military operations in China during 1938 would reach 4,000,000,000 yen ($1,200,000,000).

The decline was only temporary, but it affected all heavy industrial listings, steel, mines and munitions included. The new tax increases contemplated by the government are expected to bring in 300,000,000 yen ($90,000,000) and will affect incomes, transport and commodities of daily consumption.

Inspector F. G. West, one of the officers, said he and Sergeant A. R. Turner were watching Japanese soldiers search Chinese peddlers near the line between the British defence zone and the Japanese occupied area and remarked the peddlers were receiving unnecessarily rough treatment.

Inspector West said a Japanese policeman shouted, "It's none of your damned business," and struck Sgt. Turner on the nose. Several Japanese soldiers then rushed across the line, the officer declared, and pummeled him.

When he rushed to Sgt. Turner's aid, Inspector West said, the Japanese soldiers beat him also.

Twenty Japanese censors and communications officials who established themselves Thursday in the offices of three foreign cable companies in Shanghai's International Settlement began supervision of dispatches.

Exchange of Commodities Topic of Assestine-Aberhart Conference Monday

EDMONTON (CP)—Exchange of coal, fruit, fish and other commodities will be discussed here Monday next when Hon. W. J. Assestine, British Columbia Minister of Trade and Industry, meets Premier Aberhart and the Alberta cabinet.

Preparations for the meeting for discussion of interprovincial trade virtually are completed, it was indicated here after announcement from Victoria that Mr. Assestine would arrive.

One of the main questions to be discussed, it was understood, will be the opening of markets for Alberta coal in British Columbia. Opposition to importation of outside coal has been developing in the coast province, it was stated here.

Stir Caused By Consul's Speech

Comment of Chinese Envoy Chen on Canadian Defence Studied at Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—The government is given consideration to a speech made here Wednesday by Dr. Chang-Lok Chen, Chinese consul-general for Canada, but so far no protests have been made.

The consul-general, recently appointed to Canada, told members of the Gyo Club here that Canadians who depended on the British navy to protect the west coast were like children crying for the moon. "You will rue the day you neglected your western defences," the Chinese diplomatic representative said.

The speech brought immediate protests from Canadians who claim the Chinese consul-general had no right to interfere in the domestic problems of Canada.

JAPANESE ATTITUDE
No official complaint will be made by the Japanese legation here to the Department of External Affairs about the Chinese consul-general's address, Takeo Kinoshita, charge d'affaires of the Japanese legation, said today in the absence of the Japanese minister, S. Kato.

However, the opinion that "Canada is surely able to keep her own house in order without receiving advice from newcomers," was expressed by Commander K. Takeuchi, naval attaché at the Japanese legation.

Commenting on the speech, Commander Takeuchi said: "My opinion is that if China remained as just and fair and peaceful as Canada there would be no trouble in that country, externally or internally."

Resolution On Trade Treaties

B.C. Agriculturists Ask Open Negotiations and Notice of Changes

VANCOUVER (CP)—A resolution passed Thursday by the British Columbia Chamber of Agriculture in annual convention here asks the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture to align all agricultural interests in Canada in favor of open negotiations in connection with trade treaties and also to provide sufficient notice to agriculturists when changes are contemplated.

The resolution was introduced by P. E. French of Vernon, B.C., who declared that maintenance of existing imperial preference meant much to the Canadian apple industry.

Another resolution passed in the closing session said dump duties might be affected by any revision of the trade treaties. It was declared such duties were essential to the fruit and vegetable industries.

APPROPRIATION ASKED
Another resolution asked the provincial Minister of Agriculture, Hon. K. C. MacDonald, to seek an increased appropriation for educational and experimental work on farm lands in order to bring back and maintain their soil fertility.

Britain Studies Shanghai Moves

Will Confer With U.S. on Japan's International Settlement Demands

LONDON (CP)—The British, French and United States governments are to confer over the drastic Japanese demands on the International Settlement in Shanghai.

These demands, received in London officially today, mean the Japanese hold in the International Settlement will be tightened. They are understood to include greater Japanese representation on the Municipal Council, which administers the International Settlement, more Japanese in the municipal departments, an increased number of Japanese police in the settlement, and a Japanese secretary-general of the settlement.

The International Settlement has six miles of river front, including the central business area and the most modern factories in Shanghai.

LAND REGULATIONS

Great Britain rejects suggestions there is no written evidence to support the validity of the land regulations from which the municipal council of the International Settlement derives its authority. The land regulations, it is pointed out, were issued under joint minute of the powers dated September 24, 1869. Among the signatories were the United States, Great Britain, France and Germany.

The authority for the land regulations has been recognized on a number of occasions by the Chinese government, especially by a proclamation in 1899, and more specifically in 1930.

FOURTEEN NATIONS

The Times of London, independent, today warned Japan that the maintenance of their rights in Shanghai's International Settlement "is the immediate concern of some 14 friendly nations."

"The end of what a Japanese spokesman yesterday called the 'holy war' is not in sight," declared The Times. "Nor can a term be set to the dangerous period of friction between Japan and the other foreign powers in China."

POWER SUPPLY

TOKIO (CP)—Plans for Japanese competition in supplying Shanghai's electricity "now furnished by United States, Chinese and French concerns" were reported today.

The Japanese "North China Electrical Development Company" is preparing to enter the Shanghai field, it was said.

On the other hand it was learned attempts to interest foreign capital in the development of Manchukuo will be made in the near future.

ONTARIO CABLE TROLLEY BLASTED

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—A terrific explosion rocked West Hamilton Thursday and police today said an attempt apparently had been made to send a 20-ton railway car toppling down an inclined track on houses nesting at the bottom of the 500-foot stretch of railway.

The heavy trolley car, held at the top of the incline by cables, was shifted six inches, police said. Three lines of cable remained intact after the blast and prevented the car from plunging down the track.

The railway is known as the James Street incline. It has not operated for several years and Thursday was listed for sale for tax arrears of $2,406. Since it ceased operations, one trolley car has been at the bottom of the incline and another at the top.

MAN HELD IN ORTON DEATH

Robert McIntyre of Northfield Charged With Manslaughter After Accident

DUNCAN—Robert McIntyre of Northfield, near Nanaimo, was charged here yesterday afternoon by Provincial Police with manslaughter as a result of the death of Rev. James S. Orton on December 26.

McIntyre was charged as the driver of the car which is alleged to have struck Mr. Orton, causing indirect injuries, from which he died.

Following the inquest yesterday, McIntyre was ordered detained by Coroner Dr. H. P. Swan. The coroner's jury found Mr. Orton died from pneumonia, indirectly caused by injuries received when he was struck by an automobile on the evening of December 26.

The jury said the late Anglican minister may have himself contributed to the accident by walking too close to the centre of the road. Its members recommended regulations governing pedestrians walking on highways be drafted and strictly enforced. They further recommended the sidewalk on Cairnsmore Street, where the accident occurred, be extended.

McIntyre and Miss Minnie Cartwright, who was a passenger in the car at the time, testified at the inquest. Both said they had seen no one on the road. McIntyre said his car was traveling at 25 miles an hour.

Italy Will Build Two Battleships

Twelve Destroyers and Number of Submarines Also to Be Constructed

ROME (AP)—Italy is to begin construction immediately of two 35,000-ton battleships, 12 destroyers and a number of submarines, it was announced officially today.

The new battleships will be named Roma and Impero and will be built in Trieste and Genoa.

The specific number of submarines was not mentioned, the communiqué saying the total would be "important."

When construction is completed, Italy will have four capital ships of 35,000 tons and 56 destroyers. Italy's other pair of battleships, the Vittorio Veneto and the Littorio, were launched last summer.

With addition of the new submarines, Italy will retain her position as the leading power in number of this type of vessel with more than 100 units.

When the new programme is completed Italy will have a navy of more than 500,000 tons, the largest in her history and close to the total tonnage of the French navy.

FRENCH ADDITIONS

PARIS (AP)—Premier Mussolini's announcement of Italy's new naval programme today caused French officials to declare France must increase her warship building to meet it.

Gratien Candace, reporter for the navy budget in the Chamber of Deputies, said the chamber's naval committee would confer immediately with Cesar Campinchi, Minister of the Navy, and with the naval general staff.

He said Parliament probably would be asked to appropriate money to lay down two new 35,000-ton battleships to match Mussolini's Roma and Impero.

At present France is building the 35,000-ton superdreadnoughts the Richelieu and Jean Bart to match two earlier battleships Italy already has launched, the Littorio and Vittorio Veneto.

Strike Vote But Papers Publish

PORTLAND Ore. (AP)—Managers of Portland's three daily newspapers, and representatives of the International Typographical Union, remained silent today on the status of typographers who voted Thursday for a strike.

Executives of the I.T.U. declined any comment on whether they intended to act on the vote, which gave them authority to call a strike.

Editors of all newspapers were issued without interruption. The strike vote was cast after both sides were unable to agree on wages and hours proposed for a 1938 contract.

Montreal Labor Office Raided

Books Taken From Jewish Organization's Headquarters By Police Squad

MONTREAL (CP)—Headquarters of the Canadian Labor Circle, whose officers described it as the "largest non-political Jewish organization in Canada," were raided by police officers who carried off 800 of 950 books on the library shelves.

Officers at the organization, in existence 10 years, claimed the books taken were Yiddish classics.

Five officers, carrying a warrant signed by the Attorney-General, took part in the raid, staged last week-end, but news of which became public only today. The warrant, the third at least executed over the week-end, empowered the officers to search for and seize any literature police considered communist propaganda.

HOMES VISITED

They said the officers were members of the provincial police "red squad," which also visited the homes of A. Rosenberg and R. K. Rowley, who described himself as chairman of the Office Employees' Association.

Rowley, who claims his organization is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, said practically all contents of his library were confiscated on a warrant issued from the department of Premier Maurice Duplessis, who also holds the office of Quebec's Attorney-General, and who designed the "padlock law."

REPLY GIVEN ON RED CROSS

Canadian Society Answers British Journal's Charge Neutrality Ended

TORONTO (CP)—Norman Somerville, chairman of the central council of the Red Cross Society of Canada, today took issue with an article in The Lancet, British medical journal, which said the Red Cross is no longer a symbol of neutrality and added "it may as well disappear."

Mr. Somerville's statement said in part:

"The neutrality of the Red Cross is recognized by governments and armies and enjoys special privileges by reason of that neutrality. It is the one agency which provides for the exchange of war prisoners. And its neutrality is so well recognized that in the event of Red Cross personnel being captured in the course of the performance of their duties, they are at once returned to the army from which they came."

"The Red Cross knows no distinction of friend or foe on the field of battle. It is humanity's agency for relieving the sufferings of both of them."

Chamberlain In Talks On Trade

British Premier Hears Van Zeeland's Plan to Stimulate World Business

LONDON (AP)—Paul Van Zeeland, former Belgian premier, discussed with Prime Minister Chamberlain today his plan to stimulate world trade.

Some sources said it proposed a five-power pact to bring Great Britain, the United States, Germany, France and Italy into political and economic concert.

Others said it called for two international conferences—one a European economic round table and the other a world meeting at Washington or London.

Those who advanced the five-power pact version said such an agreement would include abolition of trade quotas and currency movement restrictions, and establishment of a general gold stabilization fund to prevent exchange fluctuations.

deliberations be stopped. At 5 p.m. the jury was recalled and again charged by the judge. The jurors were told not to consider charges of receiving, "knowing the money to have been obtained by fraud." Only the theft charges then remained.

The jury retired again at 5.30. Involving $2,144,740, the alleged thefts took place during the stock market collapse in 1929 and 1930. It was charged that Solloway had accepted money from clients to buy stocks on margin and had not done so. Customers of Solloway, Mills and Company, which had offices throughout Canada, were named as the losers.

The acquittal on the theft charges here concluded all known actions against the former stock broker.

NIGHT VIGIL

Throughout the night Solloway and about a dozen friends remained in the courtroom on the second floor of Toronto's city hall. Judge O'Connell spent most of the time in his private chambers, but J. W. McFadden, K.C., crown counsel, and R. I. Ferguson, K.C., defence counsel, remained in the courtroom.

Apparently not at all nervous, Solloway walked about the oak-paneled room chatting with friends. Twice coffee was brought in to him during the long hours of waiting during which the jurymen three times sent out for refreshments.

At 3.54 a.m. the jury returned to the courtroom and told Judge O'Connell it could not come to an agreement as to what it should do if Solloway, given money by clients to purchase stocks on margin, honestly believed the money had been entrusted to him to do with as he wished.

Judge O'Connell said the jury must consider what a businessman's attitude would be if he were given money with which to purchase goods. For the jury to convict, it must consider there had been "consciousness of wrongdoing." Defence counsel's objections to certain points in Judge O'Connell's ruling were overruled.

MASS OF EVIDENCE

One of the longest ever held in Toronto, the trial entered its 35th day at midnight. More than 2,000,000 words of evidence were written into the records. During four days on the stand in his own defence, the former broker flatly denied all charges.

In his charge to the jury, Judge O'Connell said the crown charged that money was paid to Solloway by clients with instructions to buy stock, that Solloway failed to buy it and converted the funds to his own use "and therefore stole it." It also was charged, he said, that Solloway had reported to customers that the stock had been bought when it had not been.

"Assuming that the broker takes an order to buy and decides not to buy, he is gambling against his client," the judge said. "And if he goes short against his own client and puts his client's money in his own pocket, he is guilty of theft."

FINES PAID

The trial was the latest in a series of legal proceedings dating back to the months following the 1929 market collapse. At Calgary in June, 1930, Solloway was fined $225,000 and sentenced to four months' imprisonment on charges of "bucketing" and "attempting to affect the market value of stocks."

On October 29, 1930, he was fined $200,000 in Toronto after pleading guilty to a charge of "gaming in stocks." He was acquitted by a jury in Toronto in April, 1931, on charges of theft.

BRITISH WARN JAPANESE ON SHANGHAI INCIDENT

Chinese and Japanese troops massed for battle for control of the eastern section of the Lunghai railway, China's main east-west trunkline.

Chinese asserted they had about 100,000 men along the line in northern Kiangsu province and eastern Honan province, between Suchow, 175 miles northwest of Nanking, and Kweichow, 90 miles to the west.

Japanese forces numbering 60,000 were thrusting at the line from both the north and the south. The column fighting north from Nanking still had 80 miles to go and invaders driving south in Shanghai province were 100 miles from Suchow.

SUPREME EFFORT

Control of the Lunghai railway would give the Japanese a base for a push westward to the Peiping-Hankow railway, and thence southward 300 miles to Hankow, one of China's temporary capitals. Chinese asserted their forces would make a "supreme effort" to keep the Japanese from the Lunghai railway, the nation's "jugular vein."

From Wuhu, above Nanking, came reports that Japanese warships and transports were preparing to steam up the Yangtze, with Nanking, 150 miles southwest of Nanking, as the first objective.

J. S. Woodsworth, M.P., leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, remarked "Canada has thought only of getting all the benefits without any of the responsibilities." He described Canada's policy as "stupid" and added arms were being sold to Japan at present to fight China and "tomorrow may be turned against Canada."

OTTAWA (CP)—Estimates of the Defence Department, to be submitted at the session of Parliament opening January 27, have not been considered by the cabinet, it was learned definitely today.

At the same time, it was learned in official circles that reports of understandings between Canada and the United States on defence plans were unfounded.

Defence estimates last year totaled $35,000,000 and a considerable proportion may be vetoed this year because of the inability of the department to purchase equipment. Armament plants were working to capacity all year and Canada's orders could not be filled.

Government officials here pointed out Defence Minister Mackenzie already had announced elaborate additions and improvements to coastal fortifications at Esquimalt, Vancouver and York Island on the Pacific.

Coastal defence on the Pacific likely will be the main item in any defence programme offered to Parliament this session, considering the menace in the Far East. The Defence Minister already has announced it was his intention to buy the necessary reconnaissance, torpedo-bomber, observation and fighter aircraft to defend the Pacific coast.

Thieves who broke into The Motor House, Yates Street, last night, ransacked the office premises, but took nothing, according to a city police report.

Australia Seeks U.S. Friendship

Closer Trade and Social Relationship of English-speaking Countries Is Aim

MELBOURNE, Australia — A nation-wide movement which aims at bringing about closer co-operation between the British Empire and the United States was launched in this state (Victoria) at a public meeting in the Melbourne Town Hall. The movement already has begun in other states.

Named the "British-American Co-operation Crusade," the movement began at the Sydney Millions Club in July, 1936, at a meeting presided over by Sir Henry Braddon, who was Australia's first Commissioner-General to the United States. Later a branch of the crusade was formed in Adelaide. The organizers, who are leading industrialists and professional men, hope to bring Victoria, Queensland, Western Australia, and Tasmania into line, and then to extend the movement throughout the British Empire and the United States.

The organizers feel that Britain and America together could ensure both peace and prosperity, first by combined protective action to maintain peace, secondly by the adoption of a policy of reciprocal trade and co-operation to improve international trade and finance, and thirdly, by uniting to preserve constitutional liberty—"to ensure that government of the people by the people shall not perish from the earth."

The crusade proposes to prosecute its aims by sponsoring a petition to the King and, if possible, another to President Roosevelt.

"A survey of the present world situation should leave no doubt as to the need for an urgent and determined effort by the English-speaking peoples to ensure peace with security," observes a brochure issued by the movement. "International mistrust is manifest, and all the principal nations of the world are re-arming with feverish haste."

"The dictatorship countries and Soviet Russia, armed to the teeth, present a menacing spectacle and a terrific challenge to democracy; while Spain, racked with civil war, threatens to embroil other nations by the spread of its insidious influence."

"In the Far East, Japan makes no secret of her intentions to absorb China and eventually the whole of eastern Asia, and is thus likely to become, unless checked in her ambitions, a world power second to none."

It is claimed the movement has no party political affiliations, and that it stands above all sectional interests.

The organizers claim their sole aim in sponsoring the crusade is peace and security together with world prosperity, which, they state, can only be achieved by the close co-operation of the British Empire and the United States.

In a recent speech, Prime Minister Lyons made a strong plea for a British Empire understanding with the United States. He said the Australian government would co-operate in seeking such an understanding.

"We believe that the Empire working in close co-operation with the United States, can be an irresistible force of reason and reconciliation," he said.

Winnipeg Youth Killed in Spain

WINNIPEG (CP)—Rod Gillis, 22-year-old Winnipeg youth, died December 23, while fighting in the Spanish civil war. The youthful volunteer fell during the first government drive on Teruel, it was learned here today.

Big Output At Low Price Urged

NEW YORK (AP)—A Roosevelt spokesman said Thursday night the United States needed a "high volume, low price economy" supported by good wages. An industrialist answered that the government itself could cure sick business by ceasing "its attack on industry, big or little."

Assistant Attorney-General Robert H. Jackson, the government's chief denouncer of monopoly, and the industrialist, Wendell L. Wilkie, head of the vast Commonwealth and Southern Utilities Corporation, put forward their sharply divergent views in a national forum.

Asked whether he thought it "fair" for the government to "subsidize" municipal power plants in competition with private plants, Jackson responded:

"The question of fairness doesn't enter." There were loud exclamations, and boos arose in some sections of the hall, and he added: "It may not be fair for two policemen to arrest one crook."

PERLEY PAID FINAL TRIBUTE

OTTAWA (CP)—Final tribute to Sir George Perley, who died Tuesday, was paid today when leaders of Canada's national life attended the funeral here.

From distant parts of the country old friends came to join his countless friends here in showing appreciation of a man who played a foremost part in Dominion politics for 30 years.

Honorary pallbearers were: Prime Minister King, Conservative Leader R. B. Bennett, Senator Arthur Meighen, Hon. Martin Burrell, C. Jackson Booth, B. P. Dewar, Dr. Campbell Laidlaw and Kenneth A. Greene.

Oil Duty Boost To Be Opposed

REGINA (CP)—The Saskatchewan and Manitoba governments will take joint action to protest against any increase in the tariff on crude and refined petroleum products entering Canada from the United States, it was announced Thursday.

Application for an increase in the tariff has been placed before the Canadian Tariff Board by producers of the Turner Valley field in Alberta. A special meeting of the Tariff Board in Calgary has been arranged for January 27 to hear evidence for and against such action.

Ontario Session To Start Feb. 23

TORONTO (CP)—The first regular session of Ontario's 20th Legislature will open Wednesday, February 23.

Lionel Conacher, Liberal, Toronto-Bracondale, formerly the "big train" of sport, will move the address in reply to the throne speech, Premier Hepburn said Thursday in announcing the date. Romeo Begin, Liberal, Russell, will second the motion.

The Assembly will open a month earlier than originally planned so its deliberations may be completed before the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations opens its Ontario hearings.

Possible Wheat Imports Debated

WINNIPEG (CP)—George McIvor, chief commissioner of the Canadian wheat board, states Chicago reports that Canada might import United States wheat because of scanty supplies, are without foundation.

"There are ample stocks in Canada for our requirements," the commissioner declared Thursday.

"However, the grain trade saw rising wheat values as a factor which would bring wheat from across the border. Traders explained millers might find the price here too high and start bringing in United States spring wheat for mixing purposes."

VANCOUVER (CP)—A course of instruction in the elements of scientific criminal investigation, to be given to ranking officers in the Vancouver police department, will be started by Inspector J. F. C. B. Vance, head of the science bureau, February 1. Announcement was made Thursday by Chief W. W. Foster.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1938

Tell-tale Barometer

UNDER A LONDON DATeline ON THE financial page of this newspaper this small but significant dispatch appeared: "Unsatisfactory unemployment figures announced late yesterday and the overnight setback in Wall Street depressed prices in the stock market here."

The British House of Commons is being kept posted on employment conditions in the United Kingdom. In the last 90 days the idle army has been growing at the rate of considerably more than 100,000 a month. The drop in the demand for labor, of course, would have been much greater had it not been for the armament building programme now being carried out at a feverish speed. For several months to come this will help to stabilize the labor market; but this type of industrial activity at best can only be considered on a comparatively temporary basis. It has produced what is, after all, a spurious form of prosperity. Fundamentally, of course, it is unsound, the necessity for building more fighting equipment notwithstanding.

Far-sighted economists in Britain are realizing this condition. It is one of the reasons why the British government, presided over by the son of the great Chamberlain who launched his high-tariff gospel at the beginning of the century, is in an almost feverish haste to conclude its new trade agreement with the United States—to get it working—and to cut tariff barriers. Premier Chamberlain has voiced the view several times recently that Britain need fear no serious slump. What his government thinks of the growth in the unemployed ranks it is keeping to itself.

We in British Columbia also have reason to ponder these facts. In the last six months, for example, lumber shipments from this province to the United Kingdom have been showing marked decreases. The reason is not far to seek. The original British house-building and slum-clearance programme begun a year or so ago is now nearly completed. This does not mean that new projects will not be commenced; it does mean, however, that the time for a general stocktaking of building schemes has arrived.

Disease Must Be Fought

WE ARE TOLD BY THE HEALTH League of Canada, organized by the Canadian Social Hygiene Council, that 18 years ago, just after the close of the Great War, Canada undertook a campaign against venereal diseases, most vicious of social disabilities, known then, and for years before, to have been responsible for devastating effects on the human mind and body—and death in many instances.

Publicity given to the subject 18 years ago attracted so much attention that the Dominion Government took definite action. Substantial grants were made to the provinces on a pro rata basis and on condition that the provinces subscribe an amount equal to the Dominion Government contribution. For some years the Dominion contribution was $200,000 annually, in later years $100,000. These grants enabled the provinces to establish clinics, with the result that by 1931 over 100 clinics had been established and to date about 700,000 persons have been brought under treatment.

Education was undertaken on a nationwide scale by the Canadian Social Hygiene Council (now the Health League of Canada) and for a number of years the Canadian people were kept well informed as to the importance of continuing to deal with this scourge. In a mistaken move in the direction of economy in 1932, all grants for the purpose of controlling venereal diseases were withdrawn by the Dominion Government. Inevitably there was a let-up in activity. Conferences of physicians meeting in Edmonton, Montreal and Toronto had recommended in 1931 a greatly increased programme and had passed a series of resolutions outlining details as to how such a programme could be carried out. Their recommendations were endorsed by the Dominion Health Council but ignored by the then government.

There has been a growing feeling for some time that interference with the original scheme was a mistake, that it has held up progress in all parts of the Dominion and that many cases of the disease have developed because of the destruction of the original Dominion-wide plan. A move is now under way to re-establish the entire programme and resolutions urging such action were recently passed by the Canadian Medical Association, the Canadian Public Health Association and the Ontario Health Officers' Association in annual conference. Meanwhile such a scheme has been established in the United States and under the Social Security Act liberal provision has been made for attacking this age-old problem.

Doubtless the widespread publicity given to the subject at the moment throughout the United States will assist Canadian legislators in deciding that the health of Canadians, generally is an important matter and that re-establishment of the venereal disease control scheme for Canada will be good business.

Free Press Battle

WE OF THE NEWSPAPER TRADE ARE especially interested in the Alberta legislation which is to be considered by the Supreme Court of Canada next week. Royal assent was reserved on three of the bills passed at the last session of the provincial House. One of them was a measure which would, were it to become law, muzzle the press of that province and interfere generally with one of the safeguards of our democratic system of government.

In plain language, the newspapers of Canada and their newsgathering organization, the Canadian Press, do not propose to be dictated to by the Alberta government, a government which has been trying, unsuccessfully, to run the business of the people of that province on what is called a Social Credit system. The Canadian press as a whole, and the people of the Dominion who insist they be allowed to think for themselves, will contest any form of coercion.

On this fundamental objection the newspaper trade of Canada has based its rejoinder to the legislation passed by the Alberta House last year. The contents of its brief, as well as that of the government of Alberta in support of its contention that it has not overstepped the bounds of its legislative jurisdiction, already have been made public in every part of the Dominion.

The Supreme Court of Canada, the highest tribunal of the country, must now tell the Canadian people whether the Legislature of the province of Alberta is competent under the provisions of the British North America Act—to censor the press of that province and generally to enslave it by methods similar to those adopted in countries under dictatorships, whether interference of the Aberhart type is illegal, meaning that what is called the bill "to ensure the publication of accurate news and information" is ultra vires of the Legislature.

In no other part of the British Empire, of course, has such an experiment as that which Alberta hopes to have legalized been attempted. One thing is certain, many members of the legal profession will reap a substantial harvest, but their bills will not be settled by Social Credit "scrip."

Geophysical Prospecting

OF IMPORTANCE TO THE BRITISH COLUMBIA mining industry is the discussion of recent advances in geophysical prospecting, in the December issue of The Bulletin, Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, by Hans Lundberg. He traces the development of geophysical methods and pictures the sad conditions under which the geophysicists have had to work during the past few years. An almost hostile feeling had developed against geophysical prospecting following the experience of the boom years 1923 and 1929, and it became so bad that a few years ago the mine owners did not employ a geophysicist until all other means had failed.

However, a campaign of research was organized during the depression years and methods have since been developed which make it possible not only to discover sulphides, but also to distinguish, to a certain degree, between the sulphides, and the other conductors that are of no commercial importance. New fields have been found, and the applicability of the methods have been widened to an extent which could scarcely be envisioned a few years ago. It is now possible to trace out geological formations, determine geological contacts, trace intrusions of acid and basic rocks, locate and trace quartz veins, and trace out fault lines and zones of shearing and brecciation. As a result, the work on sulphides has become rather limited in comparison with work on structural problems, prospecting for gold, tracing geological contacts, and determining depth of overburden. Besides the success achieved by other geophysical methods in the oil fields, in outlining favorable structure, and in the location of important details, there are now over 50 mines in production, none of which could have been found by ordinary prospecting methods.

Mr. Lundberg deals with the terrestrial conditions governing geophysical surveys; the problems that may be solved by geophysical methods; preliminary work, organization, and routine, where surveys have been made; ore-bodies, and zones of mineralization; and depth determination. In his discussion of recent applications of the methods, he gives examples of the tangible success of these methods to Canadian deposits.

Notes

Japan's government has two branches—the military to run things and another to apologize for it.

A few more apologies for the Mae West broadcast, and radio will be as adept an apologist as Japan.

A man advertises for his lost glasses, offering no reward. He may see his way clear, however, when the spectacles are returned.

In some instances making people pay taxes does not seem too dreadful when we notice what they do with the money they have left.

NEW AIRPLANE "SPOTTER"

From Los Angeles Times
Readily understandable is the Army's secretiveness about its amazing new device for detecting the approach of airplanes. The value as a defensive weapon of this machine which can "spot" the heat of a plane motor 20 miles away is immeasurable.

The United States can be happy that it has taken a great new step toward protecting itself from any possible enemy aircraft of the future.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

MENTAL CASE

A MAN in Vancouver is reported in the newspapers to have broken the window of a liquor store, extracted a bottle of rye and drunk it on the street. At once the police announced they would have the poor fellow's sanity tested.

This shows the wisdom of the police. Of course, the unfortunate man's insanity should be tested, for sensible people don't do such things. I mean, our British Columbia liquor system should not be subjected to the assaults of crazy people. Our system of liquor control is designed to increase the consumption of liquor as much as possible among all classes.

It is arranged so that people pay twice as much for liquor as for education and hospitals combined, and then kick about the income tax, which is a third of the liquor bill.

It is arranged so that most of the money paid for liquor is sent out of the country—a larger amount than we spend on unemployment relief, which is supposed to keep the government broke.

It is arranged so that you can buy beer in beer parlors, dank and dreary as morgues, but you can't eat a sandwich with it on pain of arrest. It is arranged so that government shall be dependent on the sale of liquor and must cut down public services like education as soon as people unpatriotically stop getting drunk so often.

When any man seeks to interfere with this system by stealing a bottle of rye his head certainly ought to be examined. There must be something wrong with it.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

AN INTERESTING sociological test has just been undertaken by the editors of one of the American picture papers. They took a set of pictures of various men and submitted them to their readers and asked them to guess what walks of life these men came from. Nowadays, of course, people are so well educated by the movies to scent a villain as soon as they see a little moustache and narrow eyes, or a banker as soon as they see a paunch, that there is no difficulty judging the calling and the circumstances of almost everyone you meet on the street. I can tell a villain a mile off by his tiny black moustache and narrow eyes and a banker by his paunch and, as the movies have demonstrated a thousand times, you can always tell a newspaperman because his overcoat collar is invariably turned up and he is drunk.

Anyway, the editors of this magazine submitted a list of photographs to their readers and they made their guesses. The results were interesting and important. As I remember it, the readers agreed that a certain man was a banker because he had a paunch and he turned out to be a musician of genius. They guessed that another fellow was a millionaire industrialist and he turned out to be a shoe salesman. They guessed that another was a dangerous criminal and he turned out to be an eminent manufacturer and a churchman. (He had a small moustache and narrow eyes).

This must prove something or other. Either Hollywood has taught us psychology all wrong or a lot of respectable people look like criminals, and vice versa. Anyway, it seems it's not safe to judge a villain by his narrow eyes or a banker by his paunch. It's unfair, because it may just be some fellow who doesn't take enough exercise. And if you see a man who is drunk, with his coat collar turned up, it's just possible he's not a newspaperman after all. Better give him the benefit of the doubt.

ROOSEVELT

IF YOU DON'T THINK that history repeats itself and that the present commotions are part of a cycle, listen to this editorial from The New York World: "The menace of the Roosevelt campaign does not lie in the third term tradition but in the state of mind that could desire four more years of Roosevelt in the White House, four more years of personal government, four more years of presidential lawlessness, four more years of executive contempt for Congress, courts and constitution, four more years of centralization, four more years of wanton extravagance, four more years of denunciation and demagoguery."

This was printed on January 12, 1912. There is a certain familiarity about it.

MAURICE RAVEL

From New York Post

Millions first heard of Maurice Ravel, who has just died in Paris, when his rhythmically effective "Bolero" captured public fancy. Yet the "Bolero" is one of his latest compositions and, with all its charm, scarcely one of those upon which his fame may be expected to endure. And we do not think it is too soon to voice confidence that Ravel's music, at least a substantial portion of it, will live.

Ravel was much more than a lineal musical descendant of Debussy. True, he owed much of his fragile and exotic style to his great predecessor, but Ravel definitely had a voice of his own. In common with all great composers he had something vital to contribute to the art, and while his stature is not measured with the same yardstick as that which is applied to Bach, Beethoven, Brahms et al, he stands beyond question among the greatest men of his day, men such as Strauss and Schoenberg and the Stravinsky of "Petushka" and "Le Sacre du Printemps."

Many of Ravel's works, such as the "Daphnis and Chloe" suite for orchestra, the famous string quartet "La Valse," the "Mother Goose Suite," already are standard in the musical repertoire. As for the "Bolero," it enjoys the signal distinction that millions can hum the theme of it—or could, once. And for a man wont to compose in a rarefied genre, for the musically elect, that was achievement indeed.

How About Housing On Model-T Basis?

From a Correspondent

THERE are many reasons why housing on a scale needed throughout the country fails to get started, despite efforts of the government to encourage it.

High hourly wages in the building trades, high prices for building materials, oppressive legal specifications, and prices, all these are holding back the building boom which is necessary to a more general recovery.

No way has yet been found to "unfreeze" any of these factors. No "model home" proposals have yet been made which bring new houses down into the price range where the mass of men can buy them.

From a layman, who does not pretend to be a building expert, comes a suggestion that might possibly point a way out. It is this:

If the kind of "model houses" now designed and offered the average man are beyond his power to buy (and they are) why not go at the thing from a completely new angle, and design a house that will be just as much house as this man can afford to buy, and no more?

HOW WERE automobiles brought within the range of the average buyer? By building an automobile, stripped of all gee-gaws, most of the conveniences, and even many comforts—the old Model-T Ford of blessed memory. It was not much of a car, even according to the standards of those days. But it ran, and thousands of people found it infinitely preferable to the horse and buggy, or to no car at all.

Does not this suggest an approach to housing? What is the matter with building a "Model-T" house, stripped of gadgets and some of the latest conveniences and comforts? A simple house that will be watertight, and clean, and sound, even if it does not have an electric refrigerator and thermostatic heat control. A house so designed that additions can be built as needed, gadgets installed as they can be afforded, conveniences and comforts gradually added as the occupant becomes able to pay for them.

Would it not be possible to design and build such a house at a cost, even under today's conditions, which would jibe with the average working man's income?

DOES THIS mean a retreat to lower standards than those indicated by the beautiful "model homes" that are designed today? Certainly not. Such a house, plain and un-gadged as it would be, would immediately be a vast improvement over the draughty cabins and reeking slums that now house so many people in city and country.

If it could be built and sold at a price working men could pay, then they would not have to saddle themselves with a lifetime of debt to buy it. As they began to get clear on the cost, the occupants would gradually install the improvements. Given a chance to get in out of the rain in clean, new, basically sound houses at a cost they could pay, such workmen would gradually improve, equip, and enlarge them as time went on.

If a man cannot afford to buy what he wants, he usually buys what he can afford. But in housing, that chance has not yet been offered him. Perhaps such an offer would be the key-log which, pried loose, would release the pent-up demand for new houses.

Pan-Canadianism Urged

By B.C. College Men

By J. D. MACFARLANE

The report that British Columbia college delegates to the Winnipeg conference of Canadian University Students advocated a policy of complete isolation for Canada is erroneous, a misinterpretation of press representatives," said Stuart Robertson, Victoria student at U.B.C., and a member of the conference delegation.

"What was advocated was a policy of economic internationalism, and neutrality in the case of a foreign war. We claimed that pan-Canadianism, a policy of collective security between the three powers, Britain, Canada and the United States, and the provision for adequate coastal defences in the Pacific with the co-operation of American technicians, is the best for this country."

The general report, which will be issued in the near future, tells of a better understanding engendered between French and English-speaking students, but not before the French bloc had nearly "split the conference wide open" over the question of the new proposed three-way trade pact between Britain, Canada and the United States, which they considered to be beneficial to the highly industrialized province of Ontario, but detrimental to their section of Canada.

A new development at the conference was the Canadian University Press, which links the University of B.C. Ubyesay with

SHIRTS IN GERMANY

O comrades dear and did you hear The news that's going round. But what a trick in winter time To shorten up a shirt!

On Russian soil we still are free To wear them longer still. What think you now of Germany. Who swallows such a pill?

By this they have a lot of cloth To bind their blood-lust loose. Or buy more bombs and cruel shells And, lastly—woolen crosses.

The baby son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Nicol, 3005 Quadra Street, was christened on Sunday at First United Church by Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., receiving the names Brian Robert. The godparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bailey and Mr. Nels Foster. After the service, Mrs. Nicol entertained relatives at luncheon, the table arranged with a centerpiece consisting of a Colonial bouquet of roses and forget-me-nots, a gift to the baby. During the afternoon Mrs. Nicol was "at home" to friends, and in the evening the godparents were guests at dinner.

Miss Betty Prangnell entertained a few friends at the tea hour recently at her home, 225 Vancouver Street. The tea table was very attractive with a "snow scene" in the centre, while red and green tapers and miniature Christmas crackers completed the table decorations. Miss Mary Hall presided at the tea table, while Miss Gladys Perry assisted in serving. The invited guests were Mesdames H. Duncan, F. Hudson, W. Saunders, and the Misses Alice G. White, Marjorie Brown, Mae Lambert, Ann Proctor, Molly Duncan, Thelma Birnie, Alice Wilkinson, Jean Munro, Joan Pattinson, Edith Scarff, Ellen Varney, Ruby Wallace, Hazel Fullerton and Betty Patton.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, 58 Government Street, are receiving congratulations and good wishes today upon their golden wedding anniversary. They were married in the Clefey Park Congregational Church at Whiteland, South Wales, in 1888, and three years later came to Victoria to make their home, residing here ever since. The venerable couple are celebrating the happy event with a family reunion, the members of their family living on the mainland having come to celebrate the occasion with them. They have one son, Mr. Thomas Lewis of Vernon; two daughters, Mrs. J. Day, Vernon, and Miss Margaret Lewis, Seattle, and two grandchildren.

In honor of her 17th birthday, Miss Margaret DeGirolamo was hostess to her many friends at her home, 2938 Cedar Hill Road, on Wednesday evening. An enjoyable time was spent in dancing and playing games. A buffet supper was served by Mrs. Girolamo, and the table was centred with two birthday cakes, lit with 17 candles, which was duly cut by the young hostess. Supper was followed by dancing to accordion music played by Mr. Andre DeGirolamo. Those present were: Misses Dorothy Peacock, Doreen Penketh, Aricia Moras, Anna Parudi, Muriel Gill, Gloria Gill, Audrey Porter, D. Guelpa and Dorothy Gill; Messrs. Robert Randall, Jack Packford, Bob Michelini, Hugh Reiff, Jack Foster, Glen Hamilton, Peter Davey, Johnny Penketh, Dave Armstrong, Gil Milnes, Bill Michelini, Andre DeGirolamo, Mr. and Mrs. O. Guelpa and Mr. and Mrs. A. DeGirolamo.

Chapter Plans Fashion Show

The Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E. closed their books yesterday, having met all their obligations and looking forward to an even more successful year in the new one which will commence with the annual meeting to be held on February 3.

A special grant was made to secondary education and a donation voted for the Mary Croft Memorial cot at the Solarium. It was arranged to have the Chapter's books audited before the annual meeting.

Mrs. Hamilton Browne was welcomed as a new member. The nominating committee presented their report, which will be continued at the next meeting. The secretary expressed appreciation on behalf of Mrs. Colin Cummins, honorary vice-regent, for the beautiful flowers sent to her during her recent sickness.

It was decided to hold a children's fashion show at Terry's on an afternoon in late February, the date to be announced later. After the meeting adjourned an enjoyable social hour was spent.

Zellinsky Heads Malahat Branch

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, V. E. Zellinsky was installed as president of the Malahat Branch of the Canadian Legion at the annual meeting at Bamberton Tuesday evening. J. C. Rathbone, immediate past president, presided.

WOMAN WINS AS FILM MAKER

LOS ANGELES—"I believe in women—I know that, with the same opportunities that men have, women can do as well in the business world as the men," said Miss Fanchon, Hollywood motion-picture producer. She is Mrs. William H. Simon in private life.

Miss Fanchon is Los Angeles born. She says that she has only traveled across town—from the other side of the tracks, where she spent her impoverished childhood, to Beverly Hills, where she now lives.

"The peculiar thing is that many years ago The Los Angeles Times offered tuition at a dramatic school to any enterprising young person who could roll up a required number of new subscribers," Miss Fanchon smiled. "I took one side of the street and my brother, Marco, took the other. Between us, I managed to get into the dramatic school."

When she had finished dramatic school, Miss Fanchon and her brother worked up a dancing act. They realized, however, that as entertainers they were competing with others every bit as good as they, but as producers they were in a class by themselves.

"So, we began conceiving and producing shows," she went on to say. "There have been many disappointments, but we've always managed to have more successes."

Miss Fanchon, for all of her business concentration as Hollywood's first woman producer and as executive of Fanchon and Marco, has time for her home, husband and two children.

"Men resent a woman in the production end of the film business enough, without antagonizing them further by usurping their prerogatives," Miss Fanchon has said many times. "I get along with them on a woman-to-man basis. I am a woman—and I love for the men to call me pet names."

Miss Fanchon has many ideas concerning the picture business which seem radical to the males on the Paramount lot, but they consider carefully before stepping on her toes—and this woman among men is proving her points, one after another.

Her latest picture, "Thrill of a Lifetime" proved one of her points—that youth must be served in motion pictures. "I like to produce pictures that bubble with youth and romance and song," she said. "And that's the kind I'll produce."

Miss Fanchon's success story is no freak. She has won her place the hard way—up a long, hard path. Today, as the first woman producer of major motion pictures, she becomes the inspiration of every woman in America.

Lived With Greenland Eskimos

Montreal Woman Found Life Rigorous But Fine

MONTREAL (CP)—A store of dynamite under the bed might mean uneasy sleep to most people, but to Mrs. J. O. B. Peterson, now in Montreal visiting her mother, Mrs. C. W. Trenholme, it is just one of the things one gets used to.

Mrs. Peterson has spent summers since 1931 in Greenland with her husband who is engaged in geological work in the Halsteborg district. Last year, for the first time, she remained through the winter, living in an Eskimo settlement. For six months the Petersens saw no other white person. She found the Eskimos "a very kind people."

Conditions are primitive, but Mrs. Peterson considers it "a fine life" and is looking forward to going back. "I am busy every moment of the day there," she said, "helping my husband in the assaying laboratory, doing the cooking and washing—all the water has to be carried from wells or ice melted—and I go to bed every night feeling that I have done something."

In the summer the Petersens live in tents, but for the winter they move into a one-room house. "It had been used as a warehouse for codfish, so the odor wasn't very good, but we got used to that." The one-room served as living quarters, workshop, and storehouse for such supplies as had to be protected from freezing. The dynamite had to be kept in doors, so "we put it under the bed."

Their food is similar to that of their Eskimo neighbors—elk, duck, whale or porpoise, "and, of course, fish." A special treat is dried reindeer meat and reindeer tallow eaten together. For Christmas last year they had a rare tidbit, frozen seal liver, eaten raw. "It's really amazing how good those things taste," Mrs. Peterson said. Usually there are also fresh vegetables brought from Denmark, "but last year they froze."

Duncan Prepares For Election

DUNCAN—Nomination day for trustees of Duncan Consolidated School Board will be on January 10. For North Cowichan Trustee S. Alcorn is retiring and J. L. Maitland will accept nomination for the position. In the city of Duncan there are two vacancies, each for a two-year term. Mrs. Janet P. Leeming has announced her intention of allowing her name to stand again, but no other nomination has yet been received. For aldermen of Duncan, W. B. Buckmaster, E. W. Lee, J. Marsh and H. S. Fox are in the running. At the meeting of the school board held on Wednesday evening the necessary alteration for the home economics class was made during the Christmas holidays, but the purchasing of the equipment was left to the new board. The clerk was authorized to purchase books for the high school library. The meeting of the Cowichan Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, was held at the home of Mrs. A. Irvine, Duncan, on Wednesday afternoon, the regent, Mrs. N. Suddaby, in the chair. Mrs. F. Price reported the chapter's room at the hospital was well equipped and the patients in the room remembered at Christmas. Mrs. Dawson-Thomas presented the chapter with a shield bearing the order's emblem, which was received with thanks, and will be placed in the hospital room. Mrs. Mortimore

Maroons Beat Leafs In Real Hockey Brawl

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

MUCH INTEREST is being taken among Victoria's racing followers over the result of the $100,000 handicap to be run at the Agua Caliente track on March 5. At the spots where the horses are the main topic of discussion there is considerable talk over just which thoroughbred will breeze across the line in first place. This interest has been aroused somewhat over the fact that Major Austin Taylor, Vancouver sportsman, has three horses, Indian Broom, Whickee and Special Agent nominated.

There is plenty of activity in the future books on the classic and the latest odds are interesting. One bookmaker reports a steady play on Whickee to win the event. This horse opened at 200 to 1, and a consistent play followed his decisive victory in the San Francisco handicap at Tanforan. Whickee's price is now 20-10-5 and 5 to 2.

He Did, winner of the Santa Anita inaugural on Christmas Day is now at 20 to 1. His recent form has been very good; the horse ran second to that superior race mare, Esposa, in a stake at Empire City, October 30. Seabiscuit remains at the top of the odds at the price of 5 to 1. Heelfly is second choice at 12 to 1, while the great War Admiral, a doubtful starter, is quoted at 15 to 1. Amor Brujo, fast-moving bangtail from South America is also posted at 15 to 1.

Indian Broom, Pompoon and Rosemont are all posted at 20 to 1, while the 30 to 1 group includes Lingerito, Scenshifter and Aneroid. Fair Knight and Fairy Hill, winner of a Santa Anita derby, are posted at 40 to 1. The latest odds on Special Agent are 60 to 1. Top Row, a former winner of the race, is quoted at 100 to 1.

Chips from the National Hockey League ponds: Mervyn (Red) Dutton, manager of New York Americans, detests the helmets worn by hockey men. Cheapsens the game, he says, making the players appear sissies compared to the puckmen of other days when there was not even a rule against high sticking.

Opposing players credit Clint Smith, brilliant young New York Ranger centre, with the trickiest shift in the league. Smitty says he tried to emulate coach Frankie Boucher, but manager Lester Patrick says their styles are far apart. Whereas, Boucher displayed the greatest fadeaway in the league Smith has got the "fallaway" down to a fine art as he goes through the defence, said Lester.

A poll of the players in the N.H.L. give Boston Bruins an overwhelming vote to win the Stanley Cup with Toronto Maple Leafs gaining the runner-up position in a tight squeeze with the Rangers. Patrick is a $20,000 a year vice-president of Madison Square Garden, yet has a heart. He refunded $100 fines for tardiness to Butch Keeling and Babe Pratt, and then rehired assistant-trainer Mike Hauser after another executive had lopped him from the payroll. Patrick pays Mike's wages out of his own pocket.

It was Sonja Henie who upset the N.H.L. schedule and caused that recent revision. The Chicago Stadium took in over $200,000 for her two-day exhibition and four-day encore there, and that much will be taken in for the movie queen's five-day skating performance at Detroit according to the advance bookings.

Esquimalt Cagers Beat Sooke Squad

Meeting in a playoff fixture for the first half championship in the junior division of the Saanich and Suburban Basketball League last night, Esquimalt Juniors staged a determined rally in the closing minutes to beat Sooke, 43 to 36. Duncan was the sparkplug of the dockers' team and scored 20 points. Lorimer was high for the Sooke squad with 14 points. Bill Levy refereed.

Horner and Ward Treat Customers With Fistic Duel

Draw Major and Match Penalties; Referee Mitchell Suffers Battered Face

Rangers Win

Grudge fights are still part of big-time hockey despite the uplifting influence of white shirt fronts, upholstered seats and $7,000 salaries. Refinement, carefully taught by the magnates in recent years, is forgotten quickly when the boys really get a good hate on.

It was that way at Montreal last night when Maroons and Toronto Maple Leafs clashed in a National League game that had everything for the red-blooded fan who likes at least one fight a period.

Arising from Frank Clancy's departure from the post of Maroon manager and coach, ill-feeling gripped both teams and brought several fist fights and 13 penalties, including two majors and two match sentences.

Leaf friends of Clancy, former Toronto defenceman, had promised to "rub it in" when they met Maroons, which team came off with the fewer bruises is a dressing-room secret but Maroons left no doubt who won the game. They plastered a 6 to 3 beating on the section-leading Leafs and delighted in doing it.

They got all the more pleasure out of it because New York Americans were playing a 1 to 1 tie with Detroit Red Wings and so moved up to within one point of Conny Smythe's Leafs. Tommy Gorman's team also improved their own position by winning from Leafs, moving to within seven points of the third-place Montreal Canadiens.

ADAMS FEELS BETTER But it is doubtful if anyone got more pleasure out of the evening of hockey than Manager Jack Adams of Detroit. He saw his team go undefeated for the second straight game and creep to within three points of Chicago Black Hawks, beaten 4 to 1 by New York Rangers in Chicago last night.

The opening period of the game brought the first and the most furious flurry of fists between Leafs and Maroons. Red Horner and Jimmy Ward started swinging at each other and almost every player on both teams got into the battle.

The Leaf defenceman and Ward were separated but they started fighting again on the penalty bench and each drew a major and a match penalty. There were plenty of bruises on both teams and even Referee Johnny Mitchell caught a few of the flying fists and came up with a badly swollen face. Other fistic bouts brought minor penalties later in the contest.

Gordon Drillon had scored for Toronto before the big fight but shortly after the ice was cleared Bob Gracie tied the score with Buzz Boll of Leafs off and Herb Cain, Cy Wentworth and Russ Blinco made it 4 to 1 before the period ended.

The scoring ended in the second with each team taking two, Stew Evans and Baldy Northcutt raised Maroons' total to six and Nick Metz and Syl Apps scored for Toronto.

Hooley Smith scored his third goal in two games to bring Americans their counter in the tie at New York. The "Hooligan" beat Norm Smith late in the first period and the teams battled through a strenuous middle session and most of the third before Larry Aurie gave Red Wings the split in points.

Alex Shubicky and Butch Keeling sent Rangers away to a first period lead at Chicago with Doc Romnes scoring the only Hawk counter in that period. Cecil Dillon scored for the New Yorkers in the second frame and Bryan Hextall added another in the final period.

Gorman Now Has Laugh on Leafs

Toronto Hockey Team Fails to "Rub It In" for Clancy Incident.

MONTREAL — Tommy Gorman, president of Montreal Maroons, who took over the coaching reins last week after letting King Clancy go, laughed last night after his Maroons downed Toronto Maple Leafs 6 to 3. Leafs, for whom Clancy played before coming here, had promised to "rub it in" every time they met the club that had cut short Clancy's coaching career.

"We'll meet them at their own blue line every time," said Gorman after the bitter rough-and-tumble contest. "Conny Smythe (Leaf manager) had been trying to run this club by remote control long enough—Now we're going to run it ourselves."

Gorman didn't elaborate.

Hoop Games At "Y" Tomorrow

Sunday School Basketball League quintettes resume their 1937-38 campaigns tomorrow evening when three games will be run off in the Y.M.C.A.

The opener at 7.15 will see Y.M.C.A. hoopers facing the Chinese Students in the junior section, while the "Y" intermediates will meet Christ Church in the second engagement. Another intermediate game will bring together St. Louis College and Eight Aces.

Pompoon Appears Peeved

It isn't quite clear just who's growling at who in this picture, but it looks as though Pompoon, great at two and a threat at three, is holding back on his trainer as he prepares for a workout at Santa Anita, where he is one of the favorites in the $100,000 Handicap, March 6.

Games Team Trains At Night In Suva

Extreme Heat Prevents Day Workouts By Canadian Athletes; Bowlers Win

SUVA, Fiji Islands—The Canadian team to the British Empire Games in Australia sailed away from Suva today, an exhibition win for their lawn bowlers under their belts.

The four Vancouver bowlers: Bob Gray, John Fleming, Ab Reid and Dick Adam scored a close one-point win over a Suva team. Gray captained them.

Most activities of the 78 athletes who sailed from Vancouver December 22 on the R.M.S. Aorangi were carried out overnight under electric lights in excessive heat which forbade day-time athletic efforts.

Those with cameras, however, defied the blazing sun to take pictures of the tropical scenery and bushy-haired natives.

The Suva Sports Club took the boys and girls on motor tours.

Members of the swimming team gave an exhibition in a beautiful outdoor pool.

Marathoners and cyclists worked out at 4.30 this morning, and the track squad went through a fresher, their first on land since the stop at Honolulu. December 29. Boxers, wrestlers and oarsmen did some roadwork.

M. M. "Bobby" Robinson of Burlington, Ont., the teams general manager, reported "all well" among the athletes.

The Aorangi will arrive in New Zealand, on Monday and there will be an extensive work-out at Auckland.

Robinson described the Suva Sports Club officials as "most kind."

LEAGUE SOCCER ON TOMORROW

First Division Teams Will Engage in Pair of Matches; Intermediate Games

Tomorrow will see first division football teams resume league play with a pair of matches. Victoria City will oppose the Garrison at the Athletic Park with Bill Cull as referee and Saanich Thistles will engage Esquimalt at Heywood Avenue with Dave Swan as referee. Play will get under way at 2.30. Two games will be played in the Intermediate League, with Young Liberals playing Bapco at Hollywood Park with D. McMillan as referee, and Cooperage meeting Camerons at Victoria West Park with E. Borde as referee.

These matches will start at 2. Teams for tomorrow follow: Saanich Thistles — Hornsby, Wensley, Carmichael, Duncan, Williams, Leggett, A. Speller, Wallace, Hope, McCaig, Cosler, S. Speller, L. Speller and J. Crowe. Esquimalt — Chalmers, Laird,

Cage Quintettes Battle Tonight

Kingham-Gillespie, leaders in the intermediate A boys' division in the Victoria and District Basketball League, will step on to the floor at the High School gym tonight to oppose the Ramblers, Dominoes farm team, who occupy third place in the standings. This will be the opening game of a two-game card.

Liberty Cafe and the Navy, senior B men's squads, will meet in the final attraction of the evening. The cafemen are in first place, while the sailors are holding down the cellar berth. The show will open at 8.

THUNDERBIRD MEETS SHADOW

Masked Villain Will Oppose Local Heavy in Main Mat Go Tomorrow Night

Headlined by the appearance of the original Red Shadow, the master villain of the mat game, against Victoria's Chief Thunderbird, who recently returned from a tour in the "big time" wrestling circles, an all-star mat programme will be presented tomorrow night at the Tillicum gym.

These two will groan and grunt, punch and gouge for one hour, or the best two out of three falls. Little has been heard about the Shadow lately, but it is reported he is still the same vicious masked badman, who stops at nothing to beat his opponents. Chief Thunderbird met and beat some of the best in the game during his recent tour and picked up a few tricks which he should be able to use to advantage against his hooded opponent.

Another one-hour limit match will bring together "Lofty" Blomfield, New Zealand champion, who has gained fame through his octopus hold, and Danny Dusek, Omaha. Blomfield has whipped some of the best with his pet hold and an interesting duel is expected when he takes on a member of the famous "Wrestling Duseks." This match is billed as the semi-main go.

Louie Newman, another Victoria heavy, will return to the local spotlight to meet Dave Johnston, the badman from Chicago, in the special event. The show will open at 8.45.

Ryersons Will Play Tomorrow

Oppose Dominoes in Inter-city Basketball Clash at High School

Occupying first place with Varsity and Stays in the mainland loop circuit, Ryerson United will invade Victoria tomorrow evening to take on the Victoria Dominoes at the High School gym. The visitors boast a splendid record this season.

The appearance of the Vancouverites, incidentally, will mark the first showing of a mainland club here this season. The competition from Ryerson should be stiffer than that offered by the American quintettes during the latter part of 1937. The Dominoes took 11 U.S. squads in their stride before the holidays.

Manager T. Peatt will send over 11 players to try and halt the winning streak of the Victorians, who will be at their usual formidable strength for the engagement. Bob "Tony" Osborne is the spearhead of their attacks and directs the club while on the court. Osborne has played for The Vancouver Province and Varsity clubs.

The Ryerson United line-up and players' numbers follow: J. Edmondson (7), Doug Whyte (6), R. Quinn (4), Cy Lee (2), Ian MacLeod (11) and R. Saundry (13), forwards; Bob Osborne (3), Louis Chodat (10), J. Pratt (3) and F. Pratt (8), guards.

No Reinstatement For Jesse Owens

NEW YORK—At headquarters of the United States Amateur Athletic Union, it was said yesterday there appeared to be no basis for reinstating Jesse Owens, triple champion at the 1936 Olympic Games, as an amateur. Although Daniel Ferris, executive secretary-treasurer of the A.A.U., declined to be quoted, it was pointed out no athlete, coming under A.A.U. jurisdiction, who knowingly had committed a professional act, ever had been reinstated.

Second-half Race Under Way as Squads Prepare For Saturday Battles

With December's little snow flurries a gradually-fading nightmare and the holiday lay-off gone with the Yuletide season, Victoria's hardy rugby fans will don their mittens again tomorrow to shiver on the sidelines of local rugby pitches, while the Saturday afternoon pigskin chasers pursue the elusive leather in quest of second-half honors.

Heading second-half race with a victory over Bert Buller's J.B.A.A. fifteen the Wanderers are naturally favored to take tomorrow's fixture.

With the Garrison as a stepping stone, the senior league race is expected to result in a days' Wanderers' battle for the Barnard Cup. Bobby Poyntz will handle the encounter, which will take place at Macdonald Park.

SENIOR B GAMES

Senior B ruggers are also on the first turn in the second-half schedule, and matches in that division will see the Navy take on the Garrison at Admirals Road with Bud Pangman as referee. On Sunday the Canadian Scottish will make the up-land trip to Duncan for a game with the Cowichan Club. Lieut. Commander Wurtele will referee. Coming through the initial half race with flying blue and gold colors, Victoria College are on

The Oak Bay High School were winners of the interhigh school rugby league with an undefeated string of games. The Oaks were captained by Pete Palin and the Blues by Bill Brown.

First and Second Division Elevens Will See Action For First Time

LONDON — League warfare will be forgotten temporarily tomorrow when 62 representatives of the football league and two less prominent teams battle in the third round of the English Cup competition.

All first and second division clubs enter the great contest for the first time together with 11 southern section, third division squads and seven from the northern circuit, survivors of the first two rounds. The two minor leaguers are Yeovil and Peters of the southern league and Scarborough of the midland league.

The draw proved kind to first division teams, 14 of the 22 being pitted against competitors of inferior status. Most third league squads have hard battles, while Yeovil and Scarborough will have to achieve giant-killing roles if they are to play in the fourth round. The Somersetshire outfit is drawn away to Manchester United, while Scarborough entertains Luton Town, Manchester and Luton are strong second division elevens.

ARSENAL FAVORED

Arsenal, already established favorite in the cup race, is host to Bolton Wanderers, another major league club which eliminated the Gunners in the first round of the cup back in 1912. Arsenal has never beaten Bolton in a cup-tie but is expected to do so tomorrow. Ted Drake, dashing centre-forward, will return to the Gunners' lineup for the tussle.

On paper, Sunderland, the cupholder, appears to have an easy battle against Watford. But the famous northern club is leaving nothing to chance for its home game at Roker Park. Watford is one of the season's strongest contenders for promotion from the third division and will provide tough opposition.

London and Lancashire teams figure largely in the round. Eleven Lancashire clubs are included together with nine from the capital and there are five clashes between clubs from these centres. One of the most interesting is the clash between Millwall and Manchester City in London. Last season the doughty Lions upset the City in the fourth round and a capacity crowd is assured for Saturday's battle. Brentford, first division leader, is at home to Fulham, cellar occupant of the second division, but the old London rivals will fight until the last kick of the game. Charlton Athletic is worried over injuries. John Oakes is a doubtful starter against Cardiff City. Welsh is finding a knee injury troublesome and Hobbs has only just recovered from influenza.

An estimate that 350,000 spectators are expected to see cup matches in London alone is explained by the fact that seven of the nine London clubs left in the competition are playing at home and one is due at the ground of a neighboring rival.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE

GLASGOW — Contenders for leadership of the Scottish Football League, Hearts and Celtic, meet tomorrow in a battle that may go a long way toward deciding the championship for the current season. If Hearts win the title it will be their first since 1897.

As the teams stand the Edinburgh outfit has a one-point lead over Celtic, but the latter has a game in hand. Rangers and Falkirk, their nearest rivals, are bracketed with 30 points, six less than Hearts.

The clash at Tynecastle Park, Edinburgh, will mark the second (Turn to Page 15, Col. 5)

Sam Epstein of Calgary and Morris Schumacher of Edmonton will meet U.B.C. representatives.

Teams representing the four western universities will compete, January 21, for a trophy presented by the Western University Debating League. WHEAT MOVEMENT

OTTAWA (CP)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics Thursday reported the primary movement of wheat in the prairie provinces for the week ended December 31 at 608,962 bushels, compared with 1,494,284 the previous week and 1,187,316 the corresponding week last year. From August 1 to December 31, 1937, receipts were 98,275,246 bushels, compared with 138,114,610 for the same period of 1936.

The land around London, England, was 60 to 70 feet higher in the late Stone Age than it is now, and it is sinking at a rate of nine inches a century.

Letters to the Editor

PLEASED

To the Editor:—A few words to let you know how I appreciate your good newspaper. I live a few miles from Duncan, and I go to town twice per week. It is a blessing to be able to have The Times delivered to the house every evening. We have a radio, of course, and we are able to hear the news broadcast daily, but a newspaper publishes the news in detail.

I am interested in your fine editorials, and I like to read the many and varied letters sent in to the editor, being all the time thankful that I live in a grand and glorious free country where one is permitted to express his views and opinions frankly and openly, and have them published.

Having traveled quite a bit and having spent several years in the United States, in which time I traveled that immense area from coast to coast, I am interested in the remarks and comments which the tourists make when they come from across the border.

I am little surprised when they comment on the grandeur and scenic attractions which this picturesque island affords one, especially if they are from California. I spent seven years in California, and so far as scenery is concerned, I much prefer British Columbia. California is beautiful—in spots, and is well noted for its natural contrasts, but so little is told of the vast arid desert regions, barren and sun-drenched rolling sand dunes, burning heat of day and parched atmosphere. I refer to the vast Mojave Desert and the weird and uncanny Death Valley, where nothing grows but sage brush, and where water is as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth. Yet, during the winter months, this same desert land is bleak, cold and uninviting.

In all my travels in England, United States and eastern Canada, I much prefer this beautiful island of ours. True, the roads are poor in places, but at that, they are much better than other roads I have seen in various other places in the province.

Lastly, Victoria is the most beautiful place on this western coast of Canada. Old England is blended in its scenery, its buildings and its customs, and I, for one, hope it may never change. It is folly for one ever to believe that Canada is becoming Americanized. Canada never will—not while we observe the Sabbath and keep the doors closed to the motion picture theatres, beer parlors, and the like. That may not please some of the tourists; nevertheless, they come here because they know it is "something different." May we all try to keep it so, and remain thankful and grateful to a Divine Creator that He has permitted us to dwell among splendor and beauty, in peace and freedom.

CHILDREN AND PORK
To the Editor:—We learn from a bulletin issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture that "young pigs must have unbounded freedom in sunlight and pure air for healthy, normal growth. They must be induced to run and play at large." Several years ago the U.S., to make pork expensive, destroyed several million pigs. Such is the way of capitalism.

When will the millions of under-nourished, underprivileged children in our cities receive the advantages recommended for swine by the U.S. Department of Agriculture?

The production-for-profit system destroys not only pigs by the million but human beings as well. I have just been informed that scurvy has broken out among some relievers in Saskatchewan and see by The Canadian Forum that in Hamilton a jobless man, with wife in hospital, gets 30 days for stealing a pair of stockings to cover the cold feet of his own child. Isn't it damnable, and how long will it last? Just so long as the comfortable middle class, who have the power, to swing the country to Socialism (public ownership of the means of life) go to the polls and continue to vote for the same old stuff.

BREEDING LASTING HATRED

To the Editor:—Confident of her success, Japan is busily engaged in conquering Chinese cities and blocking China ports, thinking this would suffocate China and deprive the Chinese of their power of resistance. But all this is of little avail in stopping the hatred, the resentment and the thoughts of revenge which thrive in the Chinese hearts or in sealing the mouths of the Chinese from pouring forth their complaints of woe to the world.

That Japan is fighting for the peace of Asia is a bed-time story for a fevered child. With each man, woman or child of China that Japanese guns made to suffer, Japan is sowing so many more seeds of hatred from which

ON BEING CHRIST-LIKE

To the Editor:—Several letters have appeared in the press inquiring, what does it mean to be Christ-like? In order that man may enter into the kingdom of God on earth—that is the Divine social order set down by the Creator—man must be Christ-like. God put Christ on earth as a pattern for man to follow.

"God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, in whosoever believeth should not perish, but have everlasting life." In order to be Christ-like, we must enter into the academy of God—that is, man himself alone, the Bible and God—if we read the "Sermon on the Mount." We can see what Christ was like, then read further on and keep reading till it is thoroughly understood; then the midst begins to clear and the light begins to shine; but to seek men's opinion on how to be Christ-like leads to confusion. Man himself, but be alone, to find Him.

AIDING SLAUGHTER IN ORIENT

To the Editor:—May I again voice a feeble but fervent protest against the shameful part our Dominion is playing in indirectly "aiding and abetting" the wholesale butchery of human beings in China by neglecting to enforce an embargo on war material to Japan. (Ye gods! that anyone would want to export it—with or without government sanction!)

Ottawa has proclaimed that the result of our recent by-election was an emphatic endorsement of the present government's policies—was it, I wonder? Personally,

I think there still is a majority of people in Christian Canada which holds honor dearer than life itself—people who were cut to the quick when they read that the Chinese delegate at the Nine-Power Convention at Brussels pointed an accusing finger at Canada, and who were again humiliated to read quite recently that Dr. Chen, the new Chinese Consul-General for Canada, had declared "British and American people who supply Japan with war material are first-class fools."

Undoubtedly the taxpayers who allow it are!—that bothers Armaments Limited not one bit! Being international, the defences they are urging us to build and equip against our own exported war material are just as likely to be made in Japan as anywhere else!

In 1914 the man-in-the-street was urged by the government to sacrifice everything in defence of National Honor—and he did, or was presented with a white feather. Today the man-in-the-street is insisting that the government uphold that honor—so readily and deeply fought for by him—but the government is not apparently prepared to make any sacrifice, but complacently accepts the white feather.

Letters like that of Leslie Wong in your issue make every red-blooded Briton feel like hanging his head in shame and apologizing to every Chinese person he meets. GEOFFREY LE GALLAIS, "Robinhurst," Cranmore Road, Oak Bay.

FROM A MESSIAH SINGER

To the Editor:—I have read with interest the two different accounts and opinions of the fourth annual performance of Handel's Messiah by the Victoria Choral and Orchestral Union in Christ Church Cathedral.

I have sung it four years under the conductorship of the Rev. W. H. Adcock, rector of St. Matthew's Church, Regina.

He always liked to call it the Regina Choral Society, in spite of the fact that at least 60 or 65 members of the 75 or 80 in it belonged to St. Matthew's Church choir, and the soprano soloist was always the leading lady of the church choir, and the contralto and tenor soloists he obtained from other church choirs. I remember that for two years Mr. Adcock sang the bass solos himself, being unable to get another bass soloist, as there was only the soprano soloist in that church choir.

These seven choruses were new to me:

"He Shall Purify," "His Yoke Is Easy," "Surely He Hath Borne Enough Grief?" "And With His Stripes," "There Sound Is Gone Out," "Let Us Break Their Bonds," "Since By Man Came Death."

But as I had very good fellow basses, I gained confidence as we all proceeded, but I blamed them for singing too fast. I asked them and Mr. Bulley I wonder what Mr. Adcock would think and say about the fast pace, as Victoria's "Messiah" went doubly as fast at Regina's.

But when the grand Hallelujah Chorus came, I let myself loose, as it is in my favorite key of D. Likewise "Worthy is the Lord" Of course everybody likes the Grand Amen Chorus.

As regards the soloists. The soprano and bass, I shall say, were impressively grand.

The best soprano solo in the whole book is the last, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth." There is something impressively soothing about it, and how well the soloist expressed herself in it! As regards brass instruments, I think they drown the true blend of the strings, and I surely do like this orchestra, and although I enjoyed the Seattle Symphony Orchestra, I would sooner listen to my own orchestra, because I know what they are playing, and I think they played very well.

The one drawback in this Victoria festival was only half an organ for a cathedral. I told Mr. Bulley I wish I could get the St. Matthew's (Regina) organ into this cathedral for him to play

CONFIDENT OF 1938 REALTY

Hubert Lethaby Tells Board of Progress Made During Past Year

Members of the Real Estate Board expressed confidence in the future at their first luncheon meeting of the year in Spencer's dining-room this afternoon.

Hubert Lethaby, secretary of the board, in addressing the members, declared that the improvements made in 1936 had continued in 1937 and he felt sure that 1938 would be an even better year.

Mr. Lethaby reviewed the general market conditions during the past year. He noted that there was again activity in business property with construction work on different parts of Douglas Street and the building of many new stores on Fort Street.

In the Greater Victoria area 1,136 building permits were issued during 1937 at a total value of $1,604,078. Since 1931 construction had a total value of over $8,000,000, which Mr. Lethaby thought was most satisfactory.

"The Dominion Housing and Home Improvement Plan has undoubtedly been most beneficial to Victoria," the secretary said. "Under the specifications of the scheme the best types of houses have been built."

The percentage of municipal tax collections had in all cases increased during the past year with Saanich reporting 86 per cent. Reverted land sold in the city in 1937 totaled $33,819 compared with $21,215 in 1936—an increase of over 50 per cent.

Rentals had been increased slightly and Mr. Lethaby noted that tenants appeared to be satisfied as they had expected these increases.

The board secretary paid tribute to civic government.

"We are fortunate in being well governed municipally—councils being well above the average in the management of the affairs entrusted to them, with permanent officials of integrity and honesty."

Frank Burton, president of the board, extended New Year's greetings to all members.

LEAVES FOR TRADE TALKS

B.C. in Dark on Aberhart Proposals For Discussions Monday

Hon. W. J. Assestine, Minister of Trade and Industry, left today for Edmonton "to discuss trade matters" with Premier Aberhart of Alberta.

It was officially indicated that the British Columbia government was unaware what Premier Aberhart had in mind in suggesting the talks, but was naturally willing to discuss anything aimed at increasing the business of the province.

Some sources suggested Premier Aberhart might be endeavoring to arrange a barter scheme with British Columbia to increase the flow of trade between the two provinces.

It was stated, however, that the British Columbia emissary would approach the conversations with an open mind.

The trade talks will start next Monday and Mr. Assestine is expected to return about January 15 or 16.

ASK AGAIN FOR AERIAL LADDER

Fire Chief Seeks New Apparatus; Extra Man and New Car Also Needed

Purchase of a new aerial ladder, a new car and the addition of one man to the department is recommended by Fire Chief Alex Munroe in his annual report to the City Council, received at the City Hall today.

"The aerial ladder, which has been the subject of report for several years past and was purchased in 1911, is obsolete and a source of danger particularly to the firemen as well as to the general public and may be the cause of a very serious accident," the chief reported in part.

"Furthermore," he added, "the efficiency of the department is greatly hampered, due to the fact that this ladder is only brought into use when it is impossible to reach the objective in any other manner, whereas if we had a modern and reliable ladder it could and would be used to greater advantage."

"The Studebaker coupe is in a poor state of repair and unsafe for its present use," he added.

CONCERN OVER HOSPITAL ACT

Representations to Be Made to Government on New Ruling

Growing concern over the application of new regulations in the Hospitals Act, limiting the hospitalization allowed indigents to 300 consecutive days, was expected today to be reflected in several representations to the provincial government in the near future.

Directly concerned are the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, certain tuberculosis institutions and the city's Jubilee Hospital annex for aged infirm.

At a meeting yesterday of the city health and relief committees, with Dr. T. W. Walker, superintendent of the Jubilee, the decision was reached to have Mayor Andrew McGavin, Dr. Richard Felton, city health officer, and Aldermen S. H. Okell and John A. Worthington interview the Provincial Secretary to determine the exact position of the inmates of the annex in relation to the new ruling.

At present there are about 30 cases at the annex. They were placed there in order to give them ready access to the hospital in case of emergency and to effect economies with greater efficiency in their care. Alderman John A. Worthington stated the government made a per diem per patient payment of 70 cents towards their keep, the city assuming the rest, which amounted to approximately $700 a month.

In the case of those inmates, together with children at the Sanatorium requiring treatment for periods longer than the 300 days, some special consideration is being sought. Organizations affected were of the opinion the legislation was not drafted to harm them intentionally and looked forward to a favorable settlement of the issue.

APPEAL COURT TO SIT SOON

Indications of a short session of the Court of Appeal, scheduled to sit here next Tuesday, were seen today prior to announcement of the list.

The number of cases to be considered was expected to be released this afternoon, but it was understood few would be of local interest.

Dr. S. F. Miles Runs in Saanich

Dr. Stanley F. Miles, Victoria dentist, announced today he would be a candidate for one of the three vacancies on the Saanich School Board to be filled on municipal polling day, January 22.

Dr. Miles is the second candidate announced for the school board vacancies, the other being Trustee A. E. Hull, who is seeking re-election.

This is his first entry into Saanich municipal affairs, in which he has been keenly interested since moving into the municipality a few years ago.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce will meet at luncheon next Monday at 12.10 in Spencer's private dining-room. Routine business will be discussed and plans made for the coming year.

KINSMEN HOLD INSTALLATION

New Officers Inducted at Dinner Meeting; Harry Hay Is Speaker

New officers of the Victoria Kinsmen Club were installed with full ceremony at a dinner meeting in Spencer's dining-room last night. The session, attended by representatives of the Rotary, Kiwanis and Revelers Clubs, also saw the presentation of the secretary's annual report, and was followed by a programme of entertainment.

Herbert Sabiston, the new president, was installed by Dr. Arthur Poyntz, who congratulated the club on its choice of its new head. Mr. Sabiston pledged himself to uphold the ideals of the club in his term of office.

Don McIntosh was installed as secretary by Dr. Ben Nickells; Dr. Percy Rumble as treasurer by Bob Shanks, and George Gurr as registrar by George Fatt.

Thanks to the members for their support during the last year and congratulations to the new officers on their election were offered by the retiring president, Pat Mulcahy. A presentation was made to Mr. Mulcahy in recognition of his work during 1937 by Ernie Harris.

The secretary's report was submitted by Ronald Whittington, and the custodian's statement by Bill Dillabough.

The Rotary, Kiwanis and Revelers Clubs were represented respectively by G. Hamilton Harman, J. G. MacFarlane and C. E. McNeill, who spoke briefly during the ceremonies.

SERVICE STORY TOLD

The story of the inception of service clubs in Victoria and a review of their work were given in an address by Harry S. Hay. He listed fellowship and friendliness as chief among the tangible accomplishments of the clubs, but said they were groping for some other achievement that would give a lasting benefit. He stressed the value of the work that could be done by service club members in taking an interest in the work and play of boys, and in their development as useful citizens.

Bob Sheret and Jack Phillon were initiated as new members of the club by Cecil Luckhart and Don McIntosh.

Features of the entertainment included a monologue and comic song by Bert Lilley and the conducting of a novel questionnaire contest by Joe McAllister. The competition was won by Bill Dillabough.

Walter S. Miles was in the chair.

Present Emblems To High Ruggers

Victoria High School students who played on the Vancouver Island High School representative rugby team during the recent British Columbia rugby week held at Macdonald Park were presented yesterday, at the morning assembly of the students, with emblems which were given to them by the B.C. Rugby Union. Principal Harry Smith made the presentation to the boys who were J. Mylrea, F. Mylrea, B. Wallace, W. Williams, R. Edmonds, E. Holyoak, R. Ngai, W. Friker, B. Fields and S. Martin. The Oak Bay High School boys who played on the team were also given emblems.

Comedy "Tovarich" Coming to Capitol

Long awaited, because of its sensational world-wide success as a stage play, the comedy "Tovarich" reaches the screen in its movie form tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre.

Produced by Warner Bros. on an unusually lavish scale, and having Claudette Colbert and Charles Boyer as its stars, the picture seems to be one of the funniest and most entertaining of the season's crop.

"Tovarich" was written by Jacques Deval, translated into English for the New York stage by Robert Sherwood, and put into film form by Casey Robinson. It was directed by Anatole Litvak.

Among the notables in the cast are Anita Louise, Isabel Jones, Montagu Love, Melville Cooper, Gregory Gaye, Heather Thatcher and Reine Riano.

Anne Shirley in "Stella Dallas"

Anne Shirley, who portrays the role of the daughter in the Samuel Goldwyn production of "Stella Dallas," which is booked for showing at the Plaza Theatre Monday, was borrowed from Radio Pictures after she was tested by Director King Vidor with Barbara Stanwyck who had been assigned the title role of "Stella."

The signing of Anne Shirley to play with Miss Stanwyck revealed the interesting fact that the last time these two actresses appeared together was in 1932, when Anne Shirley portrayed a child in "So Big." Since then Miss Shirley has grown into debutante roles with great success.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Pat O'Brien, who has come out on the losing end of more screen romances than any other actor in Hollywood; disclosed that including his current picture, his "get the girl" movie score now stands all even with 17 wins and an equal number of losses.

O'Brien had one more tally in the win column than the loss column until he was assigned the starring role in Warner Bros. picture of William Wister Haines' popular novel, "Slim."

In this story, which deals with the spectacular work of high-tension linemen, O'Brien finds Margaret Lindsay to Henry Fonda, who plays the title role. "Slim" is now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

"Lucky" Jenkins, inseparable saddle-mate of "Hopalong Cassidy" is accused of murder in a frame-up and it is up to "Hoppy" to prove him innocent and to rid the community of a band of desperadoes all within 48 hours in "Rustlers' Valley," latest of the popular Clarence E. Mulford outdoor action stories, which is now showing at the Columbia Theatre. William Boyd is in his accustomed place as "Hoppy," riding by his side. "Lucky" is played by Russell Hayden and the cast also includes Stephen Morris, Muriel Evans, John Beach and many others.

Life in Ancient Egypt — HUNTING IN ANCIENT EGYPT

One of the pastimes of ancient Egypt was hunting. When the hunter was rich, he went forth on horseback or in a chariot—with servants in his party to carry the game. On either side of the Nile Valley were wooded hills where all sorts of wild animals roamed and found their food.

Hunting With Lions

The weapons were spears and bows and arrows. The arrows were tipped with copper, bronze or iron, and had feathers to make them fly straight.

With the hunting party, goat-skins filled with water were carried, as well as jars of wine and baskets of bread and meat. The rich hunter did not wish to depend upon game for food while out on a sporting trip.

Reaching country where it was hard to travel by horseback or in chariots, the hunters tied their steeds and went forward on foot. Dogs, which hunted singly or in pairs, helped to round up the game.

A few Egyptians owned lions which had been brought up from the days when they were cubs. These lions were tame toward the masters; but toward wild beasts they were a terror. Many deer were killed by lions which sprang upon them and caught them for their masters.

Among the smaller animals hunted by the Egyptians were the hare and the fox. Wild oxen, wild goats, and leopards were brought down from time to time. There were no elephants near Egypt; but some hunters journeyed far to the south to trap and kill those mighty beasts.

Flocks of wild geese and ducks used to visit the marshes near either bank of the Nile. Egyptians with bows and arrows would often go out to hunt them. Sometimes a "throwing stick" was used to strike the bird while it was swimming in the water or struggling to fly free of tall reeds growing in the marsh. Nets were used to catch ducks and geese alive and unharmed. These fowls were tamed and were raised in many Egyptian farmyards.

Some Egyptians trained monkeys to do useful work. In one picture we find them picking figs. One monkey seems to be eating a fig—he must have felt that a monkey was "worthy of his hire." (For Travel section of your scrapbook).

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel." SATURDAY, JANUARY 8, 1938

Adverse planetary aspects rule strongly today, according to astrology. It is a day most threatening to all forms of betting and gambling to speculators. While there is a promising sign for merchants who will have emergency trade that is profitable in addition to their general business, there is a forbidding sign for contractors and future deliveries.

Industry is to suffer through strikes, for unions will be failing among workers. Force may supplant logic in labor troubles east and west. Deception will be practiced as large funds are raised to promote conflict.

In the horoscope of King George VI, Jupiter is on the meridian, in true aspect to Mars, a configuration most reassuring to all his subjects. As a subject of Sagittarius, His Majesty should be a steadfast and courageous ruler.

Portents of trouble in the Union of South Africa are seen in the reading of probabilities of 1938. Colonial difficulties will be numerous for the British Crown.

Under this starry sky may be exceedingly lucky in making new friends among eligible young men. Marriages will be many after Easter.

Persons whose birthdays are in the hour of a year of important experiences many of which mark crises in individual affairs. For the middle-aged, revival of old associations may be expected. Children born on this day may be brave-willed, but cautious, shrewd and self-reliant. Subjects of this sign of Capricorn often reach great success. Nicholas Blodde, Philadelphia financier, was born on this day, 1796.

Dorothy Dix

A MAN WHO HAS just been celebrating his golden wedding anniversary, and who used the occasion to expound his theories about how to handle the various situations that arise in marriage, asserted that the best way to stop a domestic quarrel is for the husband to put on his hat and leave the house.

The proof of the pudding is in chewing the string, as the old proverb says, and a man who is the battle-scarred veteran of 50 years of connubial warfare should be an authority on the subject. Nevertheless, one doubts the efficacy of his theory. No doubt his plan is good as far as it goes, for it is obviously impossible for a woman to keep on talking back to a husband who isn't there, but it is the philosophy of defeatism and one suspects it would only appeal to the henpecked husbands who are afraid of their wives' tongues, anyway.

Of course, it is true "that he who fights and runs away will live to fight another day," but why postpone to the future the joy of having it out right now about why the husband always has to hire a platinum blonde stenographer, or the price of the wife's new hat, when both have put on their fighting clothes and are all worked up for a good scrap?

Nor is there any need for a husband and wife to break off a quarrel right in the middle by one quitting cold for fear they will exhaust the subject under dispute. There are ten million things left for them to disagree about. And if by chance these should give out, they can always dig up an old bone of contention. There are husbands and wives who fight from the altar to the grave over religion, politics, smoking in the house, or whether the breakfast egg should be fried on one side or both.

Moreover, any advice about how to stop a quarrel between husbands and wives is superfluous because they don't want it stopped. They quarrel because they get a kick out of it; because it puts pep into the somewhat flavorless dish of matrimony; because it stirs their blood and makes them feel alive and tingling and good. If you don't believe this, note the fact that after husbands and wives have had a perfect peach of a fight in which they have reviled and insulted each other and said every mean and cruel thing to each other that they could think of, they generally end it up with kisses instead of Reno, and no harm done to the domestic structure. Not a brick loosened.

If further proof were needed that sparring with each other is the favorite indoor amusement of husbands and wives, you would find it in the incontestable fact that there probably never was a family row that could not have been avoided by the use of the slightest degree of tact or common sense or self-control. Every husband and wife knows what is the fighting word to each other, but that doesn't keep them from using it. It just gives them a tip on how to start something.

They know what topics are as good for a set-to as a nickel is for a ginger cake, but does that make them walk high, wide and handsome around these forbidden subjects? No, indeed. It makes them drag them in by the head or the heels and pass a pleasant evening exchanging criminations and recriminations about each other's families and personal habits and peculiarities.

Whether or not the home-made quarrel, like home cooking, has a finer flavor than anything one gets abroad, has never been scientifically determined. One would say on a venture, though, that there is something more satisfying about it, something that appeals more to the general taste, for it is observable that people who will go to all manner of trouble to avoid controversies with their bosses, their friends, their acquaintances and even strangers, provoke disagreements with members of their families.

The woman, for instance, who yes-yesses her employer and tells him what an oracle he is, no-noes her husband and does not disguise from him that she thinks he is a nitwit. The man who palavers over every other woman and tells her how beautiful she is; who listens to his dinner partner's views on literature, art and politics as if he were hanging on the words of a seeress, tells his wife that she is getting old and fat, and that she doesn't know what she is talking about. And the fight is on.

So, taking all of these vagaries of the domestic quarrel into consideration, we reach the inescapable conclusion that husbands and wives fight because they enjoy fighting, and there is no way to stop them.

Lucky Defence or Genius?

Play of One Card; to Block All-important Dummy Entry. Keeps Declarer From Making Contract for destroying an essential entry to the dummy.

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

The opening lead of the heart jack by West was permitted to hold the trick. Of course, South expected West to continue with another heart, but instead West shifted to the queen of spades, removing the entry for dummy's diamonds.

The trick was won with the ace and a small diamond returned to the 10 in declarer's hand. West ducked and when the second diamond was led he put up the ace.

All South was able to make was a total of six tricks, not nine. One diamond, two spades, two clubs and one heart. If West had continued with a heart after his opening lead, the contract would have been made.

Contract Problem
(Solution in next issue)
East's contract is only three. However, since all of the finesses work, you can make six by careful play.

As for defence, it rests often on inspiration or a "lucky guess," but sometimes this lucky guess is nothing short of sheer genius.

Take today's hand as an example. In one case the West defender made a play which defeated the contract, and while the declarer was inclined for a moment to regard it as a lucky stab, on reflection he gave to West the praise that he deserved.

KIWANIAN TO ANSWER LABOR

Leo Sweeney to Give Vancouver Group His Views On Social Legislation

VANCOUVER (CP) — Leo Sweeney, service club president, whose asserted remarks on social legislation brought "strong resentment" from the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council, said Thursday his offer to address the labor body had been accepted.

The retiring president of the Kiwanis Club made the announcement at a meeting of that organization. He did not say what would be the nature of his address to the labor council.

Mr. Sweeney, who assertedly advocated a modified Nazi policy for Canada in an address to another service club last Monday, was greeted with fascist salutes and shouts of "Heil Sweeney" when he attended the Kiwanis Club meeting Thursday. The demonstration planned as a stunt by a group of members, brought applause.

Last Tuesday night the Trades and Labor Council decided to ask the Kiwanis Club to dissociate itself publicly from statements attributed to its president. The labor group understood Mr. Sweeney had voiced a stand against "too much social legislation."

In an interview Tuesday night Mr. Sweeney said he had given personal views in his Monday address. He claimed that boosting minimum wages and other such legislation made it difficult for British Columbia business to compete with other countries in the world market.

Mr. Sweeney said the Trades and Labor Council had misinterpreted his remarks about Germany. "During my visit there last year I saw unemployed being put to work, health conditions good and most of the people satisfied—that is what I am advocating," he was quoted as saying in the interview.

CUT THIS OUT

EXCELLENT REMEDY FOR CATARRH, CATARRH OF DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrh of Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from total deafness. Scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment to cure it.

Sprays, inhalants and nose douches are liable to force the delicate air passages and force the mucus into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Paracetamol (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 10-pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Paracetamol used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired result. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh of head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

C.N.R. Spent Over $62,000,000 In Year

Expenditures Assisted in Bringing Canadian Industry Back to Normalcy

MONTREAL, Que.—Purchases made by Canadian National Railways during 1937 amounting to over $62,000,000 from approximately 10,000 Canadian firms, as assisted very materially in bringing various branches of Canadian industry back to normal conditions, R. C. Vaughan, vice-president in charge of purchases, stores and steamships, stated in an interview in which he reviewed the year's activities of his department.

"We expended, considerably more for the purchase of material and supplies in 1937 than in 1936," Mr. Vaughan said. "That was necessitated by the increased business handled, which required the running of more passenger and freight trains to meet the needs of increased traffic, consequently, more fuel was burned and a larger quantity of train and other supplies were used."

"Our shops were also operated to greater capacity during the year, which was necessary to meet the equipment requirements of the railway, and, therefore, more material was required for that purpose."

"Our total purchases of material in Canada in 1937 approximated $62,500,000. Of that amount approximately $15,140,000 went for new equipment and $11,216,000 for Canadian fuel used on our locomotives and in our boiler houses, stations and coaches. Approximately $15,700,000 of forest products were bought in Canada by the Canadian National Railways in 1937, which consisted of materials for construction and repairs to equipment and buildings."

"During the year the following new equipment was delivered to the national system by car builders in Canada: 50 first-class coaches, 10 mail and express cars, 2,665 box cars, 49 flat cars, 15 ballast cars, 30 sand cars, 300 gondola cars and 175 freight refrigerators. In addition, 125 freight refrigerators were built in C.N.R. shops."

"During the year we had a heavy air-conditioning program in connection with our passenger cars, and 126 cars were air-conditioned, Mr. Vaughan added."

"In 1937 there was a substantial increase in the price of some lines of material, but we are hopeful that there will be recessions in price during the year."

"The expenditure by the Canadian National Railways of Canada has meant many million man hours of work for our Canadian citizens and has done much to assist various branches of Canadian industry back to normal conditions."

King Bros. announce that Ss. Anglo-Indian has been fixed to take the Vancouver-St. Lawrence Line February sailing from Halifax, N.S., to Victoria and Vancouver via the Panama Canal.

February 11 is the closing date for cargo.

PASSED DESTROYERS

"We passed within a quarter of a mile of them. They were heading south the day before yesterday with a bone in their teeth," said Capt. A. Watts, commander of the Royal Mail Lines motorship Lochmonar, which docked here this morning from the United Kingdom. He spoke of sighting the Canadian destroyers Skeena and Fraser which sailed from Esquimalt last Tuesday for South America via San Pedro, Calif. "It was to the north of Cape Blanco that we put our glasses on the destroyers," Capt. Watts added.

"I was surprised when I saw the blue and white ensign and then realized they were units of the Canadian navy. They looked trim and businesslike."

Capt. Watts knows Victoria intimately, for he has been coming here over a number of years in the Lochmonar and with other ships.

He recalled today that he first visited Victoria in 1900 as an apprentice aboard the four-master barque Lydenhorst. "The same Parliament Buildings were here then. They are a landmark that I remember Victoria by in my youth," he said.

HERE TO SETTLE

Returning to British Columbia to settle down, Lieut.-Col. P. Byng-Hall and his wife reached Victoria this morning by Ms. Lochmonar from San Francisco.

"I believe I made a mistake in not settling here after the war," said Col. Byng-Hall discussing his wandering since 1919.

He left Victoria in 1914 as major with the 88th men of the first contingent. After coming back at the termination of the world war he was impelled with a desire to seek retirement in the bush and went to New Zealand, where he engaged in dairying. Then, getting restless, he again turned to Canada and grew apples in the famous Annapolis Valley in the Maritimes.

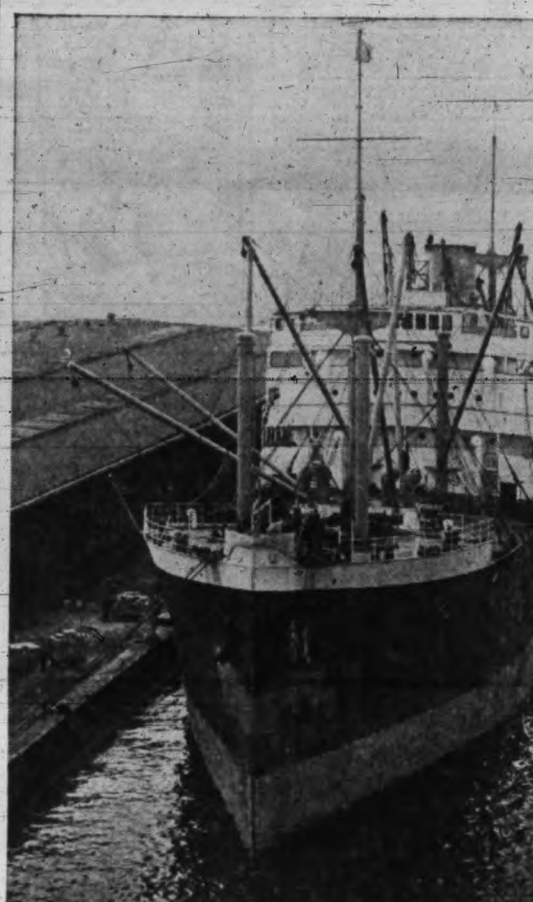

More recently he and his wife have been visiting California.

Before the war Col. Byng-Hall was in the real estate business in Victoria.

FISHERIES CONFERENCE

Problems on Both Coasts Reviewed By Research Board at Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — The Fisheries Research Board of Canada has completed a three-day conference here at which a variety of fisheries problems were discussed.

Under an act passed at the last session of Parliament, the Biological Board of Canada, which functioned as the research branch of the Department of Fisheries since 1912, was given the new title of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada with the same relationship to the Department of Fisheries as before.

The board discussed studies of the migration of cod and haddock in Atlantic waters, carried out for the purpose of forecasting movements of these fish sufficiently to assist fishermen in obtaining knowledge of where fish would congregate at certain times of the year.

Every member of the board was present at the conference in addition to directors of the stations at St. Andrews, Halifax, Grand River, Nanaimo and Prince Rupert.

Preliminary reports were made in connection with investigations now under way on the important lobster and scallop industries.

Work the board carried on for the last 12 years at Cultus Lake, B.C., on sockeye salmon was reviewed. All work on the Fraser River is being handed over to the new international Fraser River Sockeye Commission.

The corresponding work carried on for some years in the Queen Charlotte Islands on pink salmon was reviewed. An initial survey has been completed in connection with Skeena River fishing problems and plans are being made for intensive work in that area.

Research carried out on pilchard and herring was reviewed and definite evidence was shown that pilchard move backwards and forwards from California to British Columbia waters so that the matter is one of international interest.

Another report indicated that at the Prince Rupert station during the last year a concerted effort was made to aid the industry to improve the quality of the halibut from time of catching to time of delivery to consumers in Canada or Great Britain.

TWO FREED IN AAFJE SLAYING

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Robert Horne, 27, and George Spornak, 19, today stood freed of guilt in their confessed parts in ending the piratical career of "Mad Jack" Morgan after five days of terror aboard the luxurious yacht Aafje.

Morgan, who had chartered the yacht last December 20 for an announced two-day pleasure trip to Catalina Island, was declared by the survivors to have killed the owner, Dwight Faulding, Santa Barbara hotel man, the first night out from San Pedro.

Horne and Spornak had been held on murder charges, but the grand jury, after hearing evidence for two days "declined Thursday to indict them, and the federal marshal ordered their release from the county jail, where they had been held since their return to land December 30.

REGIMENTS UNITED

OTTAWA (CP)—National Defence Department heads said three officers from Kingston, Ont., and Ottawa were in Halifax Thursday conducting a routine court of inquiry seeking information in connection with amalgamation of the Annapolis and Lunenburg regiments of the non-permanent active militia. There had been speculation as to the reason for the visit.

DIVERS WORK BELOW DECKS

Cargo Will Soon Be Out of Motorship to Permit Raising

Dislodged by divers, drums of gasoline broke the surface during the forenoon above the hatches of Ms. Beulah which lies submerged off the Canadian National docks. Most of the case oil cargo has been removed from the ship's holds and stowed aboard a scow moored alongside by longshoremen.

As soon as all the cargo has been gotten out the hatches and ventilators will be sealed and the vessel will be pumped out to raise her from the bottom.

Diver Jack Collins and another diver were at work in the flooded holds of the Beulah this morning and reported good progress.

Air is being supplied to the divers from Ss. Salvage King. Working under water the divers give their orders from below by means of a telephone wired directly from the diver's helmet to a receiver attached to the head of an assistant on the barge.

The salvage operations are proceeding satisfactorily and it is expected the motorship will be brought to the surface within the time schedule set by the Pacific Salvage Company.

Actual pumping operations are not expected to be started before next week.
